STILL AWAIT WORD OF FATE OF SAMUEL PARKS

The Government Officials Want
More News on Parks and Silliman Cases — Federals Leave
Tampico—Fighting Near Saltillo

WASHINGTON, May 20.—With the beginning late today of the Niagara conference officials in administration and diplomatic circles here turned their attention to proceedings in the Canadian border town which, it was hoped, would result in complete settlement of Mexico's ills. President Wilson will be kept in close touch with the progress of negotiations by means of a special wire set up between the White House and the headquarters of the American mission at Niagara Falls.

Justice Lamar and former Solicitor-General Lehmann are familiar with the president's general view of the Mexican question, but they will submit all important questions to him before they take any action on the proposals of the South American envoys.

Fate of Samuel Parks

While conditions appeared propitious for the beginning of the conference, yet government officials still awaited word of the fate of Samuel Parks, the American infantryman who strayed into Mexican lines outside Vera Cruz and was reported to have been executed. Vigorous representations had been made to Huerta, who had promised to investigate the Parks case and fix the blame for his reported death. Some anxiety was expressed over John R. Silliman, American vice consul who had been held by federal officials at Saltillo. Silliman was said to have been released and started on his way to Mexico City, but definite report of his movements still is lacking. The state department also awaited the result of representations made to the Mexican family at Tonala, Chiapas.

All Federals Leave Tampico

Reports that practically all the federals defeated at Tampico had left that territory without attempting to damage oil wells, and news that the constitutionalists had refrained, so far, from attempting to levy forced loans at their first seaport, relieved a menacing situation. The state department, acting on suggestions from foreign sources, had informed the constitutionalists that they should not administer the laws with "severity." Apparently that hint had been understood.

Fighting at Saltillo

Continued reports from Mexico City tending to support the theory that an effort soon will be made to unseat Huerta renewed interest here in developments at the federal capital. Great fear in Mexico City, declare refugees arriving in Vera Cruz, is not that the plot against Huerta will be executed, but that it may not occur before the entrance of the Zapata forces, which might precipitate more serious trouble. That the constitutionalists had renewed their active campaign south of Torreon was indicated in reports of desperate fighting before Saltillo. Villa's next immediate goal. Details of the movement were lacking, but one report stated the constitutionalist military chief had defeated 5000 federals at Paredon and captured large quantities of arms and ammunition.

Formal Opening of Peace Sessions to Compose Differences Between the United States and Mexico Set for 3 O'Clock

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 20.—The mediation conference, which under the friendly guidance of Ambassador de Gama of Brazil and Ministers Naon of Argentina and Suarez of Chile, is to attempt to compose the differences between the United States and Mexico was ready today to get into full swing. The Mexican peace commissioners, with their large entourage, arrived here early today from New York while the American delegates reached here shortly before midnight last night. Minister Suarez was the last of the three South American mediators to reach the scene of their activities.

Welcome Distinguished Visitors

To welcome the distinguished visitors to the neutral territory where the conference is to be held, the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, delegated Marlin Russell, minister of agriculture and Senator Levesque, conservative leader, to come here from Ottawa. Their program included visits of greeting to the mediators and to the American and Mexican delegates, which were to be returned by the latter.

Formal Opening at 3 O'Clock

The formal opening of the conference is set for 3 p. m. today, but nothing is expected to take place except the formal introductions, exchanges of courtesies and the adoption of plans for the conduct of the mediation proceedings, such as are customary to the opening of an international gathering of this character.

Rules and Regulations

At their opening session the mediators were prepared to lay before the delegates from the two governments which they are trying to reconcile the rules and regulations which will govern during the proceedings. Every step to be taken by the mediators will be by unanimous consent of the three South American diplomats. While Ambassador de Gama, as ranking representative among the three, would be leader in whatever action might be taken it has not yet been announced whether there will be a chairman formally chosen to preside over the sessions.

American Delegates

Justice Lamar of the United States supreme court, and Frederick W. Lehmann, former solicitor general in the department of justice, the American delegates, with H. Perceval Lodge, their secretarial adviser, who are making their headquarters in Niagara Falls, N. Y., will be required every time they attend a session of the conference to cross the long steel arch bridge crossing the Niagara river just below the falls.

Grand Vice Chancellor Charles S. Wilson of this city was unopposed for advancement to succeed Grand Chancellor Harry R. Peterson of Lewiston. The contests were for grand vice chancellor, grand proctor, grand keeper of records and seal and grand enter guard. Charles H. Hurd of Berwick and Howard E. Sawyer of Bangor were candidates for grand vice chancellor. The re-election of Edgar J. Brown of Waterville as grand keeper of records and seal was opposed by Harrison R. Waterhouse of this city.

PORTLAND, Me., May 20.—Several contests for offices were expected to enliven the interest in the annual convention, today, of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias in Pythian temple.

QUIMET OF BAY STATE DEFEATED BY TUBBS

Open Golf Champion of U. S. Lost in Third Round of British Open Golf Championship—Herreshoff of New York Won From Platt

SANDWICH, Eng., May 20.—Francis Ouimet, open golf champion of the United States, and H. Tubbs, a youthful local player from a nearby club at Littlestone-on-Sea, Kent. The enthusiasm of the American spectators was soon sharply cooled by the way in which Tubbs handled their favorite. By the time the two players reached the turn Ouimet was one down and Tubbs finished the round with 2 up and 1 to play.

Quimet's card for the round was as follows:
Outward—5 5 4 7 4 4 5 3 5—42.
Homeward—5 3 4 5 5 3 5 5—41.
Total, 83.
Tubbs did two strokes better on the first nine holes and one stroke better on the second half of the journey. His card read:
Outward—5 4 4 4 3 5 5 5—49.
Homeward—4 5 3 5 4 5 4 6—40.
Total, 89.

The defeat of Ouimet disheartened the American contingent, but the cloud was partially dispersed shortly after-ward by a brilliant victory gained by Frederick Herreshoff of New York in beating J. R. Platt, of the Royal North Devon club by 4 up and 3 to play.

New York

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 20.—Sixty-four American negroes and as many Indian peons were killed and one hundred persons injured in a race war that started in the Querigua district, Guatemala, on May 14, and continued for three days, according to mill devices received here yesterday from Puerto Barrios. According to the report the trouble was due to the winning by a negro man of an Indian girl at dice which stirred the fires of race hatred.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., May 20.—Henry Siegel, who is under indictment on allegations arising out of the failure of his private bank and department stores, sailed today for New York on board the Olympic.

WILL HAVE TO GO SOME TO WIN
THIS YEAR, SAYS HARRY P. WHITNEY

NEW YORK, May 20.—Harry Payne Whitney, captain of the 1913 American polo team and chief of the coaches of this year's defenders, does not share the optimism so generally heard over the prospects of again defeating the English challengers. If America wins in the coming matches, Mr. Whitney says, it will be only after one of the closest contests ever played.

BLASTER TOTALLY INJURED

CLINTON, May 20.—Philip Philbin, a blaster employed on Clinton's new state armory, was fatally injured late yesterday afternoon by the premature explosion of a blast of dynamite. He was hurled to the Clinton hospital, where surgeons said his death is a matter of only a few hours.

Philbin is 37 years old, is married and has five children. Clinton is his home.

1ST STATE-WIDE PRIMARY

Penrose, Palmer and Pinchot
Nominated for U. S. Senator
From Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—Boies Penrose, republican; A. Mitchell Palmer, democrat, and Gifford Pinchot, progressive, will make the fight for United States senator from Pennsylvania in the November election. These three won their respective party nominations yesterday in the first state-wide primary held in Pennsylvania under the new federal constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by popular vote.

Penrose won a sweeping victory over J. Benjamin Dimmick, former mayor of Scranton; Palmer defeated Henry Budd of Philadelphia in a bitter fight and Pinchot was unopposed. At republican state headquarters it was estimated that Penrose had about 175,000 majority over Dimmick and that Martin C. Brumbaugh's vote for the governorship nomination had run from 55,000 to 50,000 over that of Penrose.

Aside from the senatorship the greatest interest was taken in the battle for the democratic nomination for governor. This fight was between Vance T. McCormick, former mayor of Harrisburg, and Michael J. Ryan, city solicitor of Philadelphia. Friends of McCormick claim the victory for him.

The Washington (progressive) candidate for governor, will be William Prager Lewis, dean of the University of Pennsylvania law school.

Candidates for the supreme and superior court nominations who were supported by the dominant political organizations were successful on the non-partisan ballot. There were

IN POLICE COURT

Hugh Blair, aged 18 years, who claims to live with his parents in Somerville was arrested near the Thorndike street freight yards yesterday evening by Sergt. Ryan, charged with riding on a freight car of the R. & M. railroad company. The young man told the court that he came here yesterday looking for work and while passing through the freight yard he saw a freight train and intended to go for a short ride. A fine of $10 was imposed and he was given two months in which to pay it.

William J. Burke, for drunkenness was sentenced to four months in jail.

Henry A. Daigle and John McDonald were asked to pay fines of $5 each.

William Contois was charged with neglect to support his two minor children. His wife, Mary Contois, testified that she had received no support from her husband for some time. The court ordered a suspended sentence to the house of correction on condition that Contois pay $7 weekly toward the support of his children.

TEDDY ON NATIVE SOIL

Former President Returns After South American Expedition—Contracted Fever in Jungle

OYSTER BAY, May 20.—Theodore Roosevelt set foot on his native soil last night for the first time for several months. His homecoming was a quiet affair in sharp contrast with the noisy welcome he received when all New York turned out to greet him on his return from Africa four years ago.

A group of 33 persons, old friends and relatives stood quietly on the sandy beach at Oyster Bay down the hill from Colonel Roosevelt's home. The former president, leaning heavily on a cane, and assisted by two men, toiled slowly up the gangway from the landing place. But though Colonel Roosevelt had paid this penalty for his researches in the jungle, he gave no sign of change in his manner.

The tug bringing the colonel from quarantine where he disembarked from the liner Albatross, was sighted shortly after 5 o'clock. She steamed in slowly and after what seemed like an interminable delay to those on shore, a rowboat put off and crept up to the wharf.

Not a word was spoken until a familiar voice was heard across the water:

"Hello, There!"

"Why, hello," cried Colonel Roosevelt, "hello, there."

A little cheer went up as those on shore caught sight of a bronzed face, lighted up by the pale rays of the boat's lantern.

Mrs. Richard Deady, Colonel Roosevelt's youngest daughter, flew down the gangway and put her arms about her father as he was helped slowly from the boat to the wharf. With a lantern to light the way he made his way up the incline to land, and stopped to join his old friends.

"By George, it is good to see you all,"

he said with the broadest kind of a smile. "How do you feel?" was the first question put to him.

"Fine, fine, just fine," he exclaimed. The next question he cut off short. "No politics, no politics. I'm going to stay here quietly for 10 days. I shall go nowhere except to Washington to speak before the National Geographic Society."

"Washington is a bad place for you now," broke in some one.

"I wish you were there now, Theodore," came from a gray-haired woman. The colonel laughed at this remark.

"If I were," he began, "I would—"

He stopped short, then raising his cane, said after a moment's hesitation that he still had the big stick.

In spite of Colonel Roosevelt's weakened condition, his relatives showed no uneasiness. They said that after a week's rest at home he would be as fit as ever.

Colonel Roosevelt remained on the beach for a few minutes exchanging neighborly greetings, then he climbed into his automobile and was whisked up the hill to his home, where there was a family reunion.

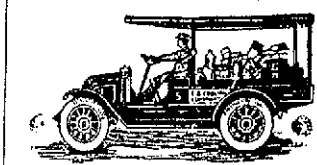

Mrs. Roosevelt devised and directed the arrangements to make her husband's homecoming a quiet one.

School children had been drilled in singing "America" and a great store of flags and bunting was on hand to decorate the village. Besides it was the annual festival of the village to fire a salute of 21 guns with a rusty old cannon in the public square.

But Mrs. Roosevelt preferred to have the celebration delayed, fearing her husband would be too tired to go through with it. It is expected that Oyster Bay's official welcome will take place Thursday.

ROOSEVELT DENIES HAVING EXPRESSED HIMSELF ON PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

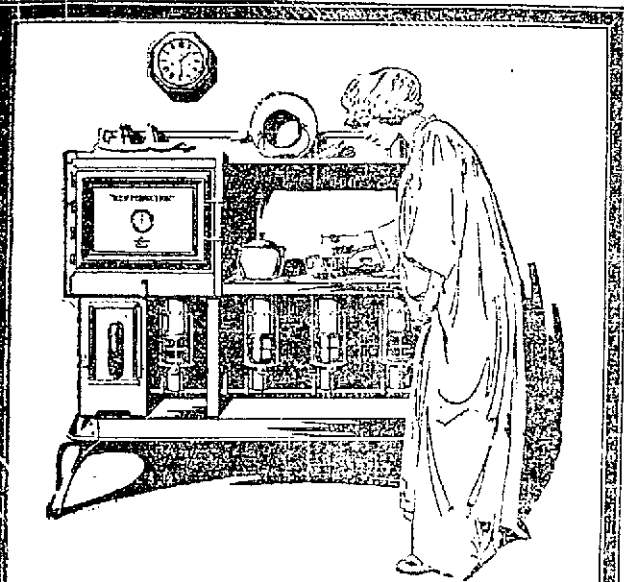

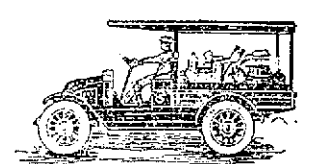

NEW YORK, May 20.—Theodore Roosevelt returned home yesterday from his visit of many months to South America. Accompanied by the two naturalists of his party, George R. Cherry and Len E. Miller of Harvard, he arrived from Lima at quarantine shortly before 1 o'clock on board the liner Albatross. With a few crisp sentences, punctuated by decisive gestures, he resumed the verity of the "father of truth," curtly denied having expressed himself as to presidential possibilities for 1916, declared he would not run for governor of New York, made a few deprecating remarks about his critics, and with harbor craft trailing and thus fluttering, was taken on board the tug W. F. Ditzel, which proceeded to Oyster Bay.

ST. MICHAEL'S GUILD

HELD FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET AT ITS ROOMS ON SIXTH STREET—GOOD ATTENDANCE

The young women of St. Michael's guild held their first annual banquet at the guild room on Sixth street last evening. The room itself was beautifully hung with ribbons in rainbow tints while the tables were adorned with pink and white roses, ferns and wild flowers. Dainty pink favors and menu cards added to the attractiveness of these tables.

After enjoying a hearty repast, the president, Miss Margaret McCloskey, in a few well chosen remarks introduced the toastmistress of the evening, Miss Mary Joyce, who performed her duties in her own charming way. Among the speakers who responded to the call of the toastmistress were Rev. E. J. Mullin, director of the guild, and Rev. D. E. Murphy. Miss M. J. McCloskey read a paper on the life and works of St. Michael, the patron saint of the south. Miss Nellie Lynch and Miss Katherine Mullin entertained with songs, while the Elsie (Ladies') orchestra played at intervals during the supper and accompanied the choruses which followed. Altogether the evening was one of rare enjoyment.

LOCAL PERFORMERS MADE GREAT HIT AT GREENFIELD, MASS., LAST NIGHT

Some class to the "Honey Boys." That's what they're all saying at Greenfield, Mass., today.

Four members of the "Honey Boys," under the direction of Ed Hanley gave in concert at Greenfield last night for the benefit of the Greenfield branch of the Order of Moose. The performers made a great hit. Each member of the company was well received and before he was allowed to take his seat several cheers were necessary to satisfy the large crowd that assembled to hear them. The members of the company are Ed Hanley, James H. Lyons, George Rogers and John Baxter. Each is a talented performer, and all have had considerable experience on the boards. After last night's show, the "Honey Boys" left Greenfield for Ware, Mass., where they will appear tonight for the Order of Moose in that town.

EX-MAYOR HITS MAYOR

SULLIVAN AT GAMBOL AND CREATES STIR

BOSTON, May 20.—It was due, altogether to the fine tact of Pres. J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., that the Springfield gambol of the Boston chamber of commerce at the Cooley Plaza hotel last evening did not end in dissension and turmoil, because of the remarks of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald, who impersonated John A. Sullivan, former chairman of the finance commission.

As it was, Mayor Curley left the banquet hall rather unimpressed, while the ex-mayor was speaking, and slammed the door behind him, and Bernard J. Rothwell was stopped by Pres. Coolidge in the midst of the reading of a resolution condemning the remarks of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald. Several prominent members of the chamber left soon after Mayor Curley retired and some of these expressed themselves to the reporters as disgusted with what they termed the "studied attack" of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald on Mayor Curley and John A. Sullivan.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald, when seen after the incident was "closed" and before the gambols were over, said in reply to the question whether he intended to say anything by way of apology: "I certainly will not apologize for anything I have said. I will leave it to the public. What I said was said in a humorous and facetious spirit and at last year's gambol when I was mayor and spoke I said worse things about myself than I said about anybody here this evening. People who are so thin-skinned that they can't stand a little fun shouldn't come to such affairs. I was asked by the committee to impersonate John A. Sullivan and I did it."

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald's remarks were in the nature of a reply to Lincoln Sullivan's statement, who was impersonated by John A. Bunde, and explained that after having investigated Boston for two years he could find nothing more crooked than the streets to write about in the magazines, so he gave it up. He said a good many things about Boston, however, and in a veiled way caused a good deal of merriment by his sallies at people and things Bostonese.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald as John A. Sullivan, chairman of the finance commission, felt that Lincoln Sullivan's inability to discover anything more crooked than the streets of Boston was a reflection on himself and on his many discoveries, findings and reports as chairman of the finance commission, and he enumerated in a facetious way the many evidences of corruption and graft he had exposed and included some later disclosures like the "Swan boat graft," the "phone privileges" on the "nurses."

THE BIG BONFIRE

Preparations Being Made at This Early Date

The residents of Riverside who are interested in the bonfire to be held on lower Fort Hill park on July 4th, evidently believe in getting an early start for already they have begun work on the pile. Last evening the centre pole, a pine tree, 30 ft. in height, was erected, the job being engineered by Alexander Anderson, construction foreman of the Lowell Electric Light company. The six foot poles were put in position today and Moynihan Bros., contractors, will soon start the cement work. Railroad ties are being hauled to the scene daily for they will furnish the principal fuel for the bonfire. Edward Cawley has leased the committee two horses and two mules to transport the material for the fire while the committee is also indebted to William Mulcahey, the lunch cart proprietor, for the use of a horse and wagon. The promoters of the event are planning to have a banner on the field while the fire is in progress, to which they will invite Governor Walsh and other celebrities.

gave the ex-mayor his cue to stop, which was:

"Who are you, anyway?"

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald promptly said, "I am Sullivan—that's me," and he proceeded to sing a parody on "Harrigan, That's Me," substituting the word "Sullivan" for the word "Harrigan."

ON WESTCHESTER DEAL

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Charles S. Mellen today resumed the remarkable story he is unfolding before the interstate commerce commission concerning the vast and complicated financial operations of the New Haven railroad and its various subsidiaries.

Chief counsel Folk, for the commission, directed his inquiries fully and fairly to developing the dominant part taken in the transactions by prominent figures on the board of directors of the New Haven road and more particularly the late J. Pierpont Morgan and William Rockefeller.

Mr. Mellen responded readily to this line of inquiry and told in detail of his relations with Mr. Morgan, making no difference between the good and bad that occurred. Mr. Mellen also went fully into the acquisition of the New York, Westchester & Boston road by the New Haven. This brought out further references to the part taken by the late Mr. Morgan, Inspector Thorne, of New York, who, Mr. Mellen testified, operated through the people on Fourteenth street, where, you know, Tammany hall is located.

Mr. Mellen, when asked about differences with Mr. Morgan regarding the Westchester deal, detailed a conversation with the late financier which he said had greatly "humiliated" him. At first he hesitated to relate the conversation because Mr. Morgan was dead, but when pressed for an answer he said that Mr. Morgan had asked him if he thought he knew more about the deal than he had drawn from the Westchester deal.

Mr. Mellen answered the rapid fire of questions with readiness and poise, composed and frequently evaded laughter by some ally. The committee room was crowded with spectators, including many women and the hearing was followed with intense interest. Mr. Mellen was still under constant observation when the noon recess was taken.

MELLEN RESUMES STAND

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A large crowd besieged the committee hearing room today, eager to get a glimpse of Mr. Mellen and learn the continuance of the story in the New Haven by-product. The clash between Attorney General McQuinn and the commission over the taking of the Mellen testimony and the seeming expectation that this would be brought into the hearing beginning interest in the proceedings.

Mr. Mellen resumed the hearing room today, as expected, and was accompanied by J. W. H. Cram, the former New Haven president, carried a large lot of private papers and memoranda. He seemed composed for the examination about to begin.

"I am going to go forward," said he, "and tell you nothing I can forecast ahead of my testimony."

Mr. Mellen, counsel counsel of the New Haven, came in shortly after Mr. Mellen arrived.

Mr. Mellen was called to the stand about 10:30 o'clock.

"How long were you president of the Northern Pacific railroad?" was the first question put to Mr. Mellen by Mr. Folk.

"Six years," he replied.

"I was asked by J. P. Morgan to become president," said Mr. Mellen.

Mr. Mellen testified that Mr. Morgan called him on the telephone and that the conversation was about as follows:

"That you, Mr. Mellen?"

"Yes."

"Will you take the Northern Pacific presidency?"

"Yes."

"I have all the details to me?"

"Yes."

The committee reported about a year later that $11,550,000 had been expended, he found fault with the report as not being sufficient in detail.

"I saw Mr. Morgan," he said, "and I told him that all details of the matter should have been set down and that the report should have told how each separate sum was spent. I told him I might want some time to look up some of these items. Mr. Morgan was very abrupt in his answer to me. He was disturbed at that time, as it was during the panic and I left his office feeling much humiliated."

"What did Mr. Morgan say?"

Mr. Mellen objected to telling this, declaring that the conversation was personal and as Mr. Morgan was dead he did not see any reason for repeating it.

He again said that the conversation was humiliating to him and he did not want to repeat the interview on the witness stand. Commissioner McKim, who presided, ruled that Mr. Mellen should answer the question and the witness then said:

"I told Mr. Morgan that the matter was not in the shape it should be. 'Do you think you know more about how it might be drawn than I do?' Mr. Morgan said."

"I allowed I did not and dropped it. 'An amount approximately $3,950,000 was paid for the Westchester at a beginning,' suggested Mr. Folk. 'How was that payment provided for?'"

Mr. Mellen explained that the finance committee of the directors reported in favor of the transaction, which he thought involved about $11,000,000.

"The proposition," said Mr. Mellen, "was submitted for the committee by Mr. Morgan and it was adopted by the directors."

"I thought," continued Mr. Mellen, "that I was entitled to know more about the transaction than I did know. I thought I was entitled to know why we were paying $11,000,000 for a great big basketful of stuff that we did not know the value of."

"I never did know what the real motive for the deal was. I tried to find out and failed. I do not mean to convey the idea that anybody got away with money he was not entitled to. The committee presented its report and it was ratified. That was an effort to do it at the directors' meeting."

Mr. Mellen explained that in an effort to obtain from Mr. Morgan information about the report he was subjected to further humiliation. Mr. Morgan, he testified, treated him brusquely and refused to give him any more information than the report contained.

"I felt," said Mr. Mellen, "that in disagreeing with Mr. Morgan I would be wrong nine times out of ten."

"Were you afraid of Mr. Morgan?" asked Mr. Folk.

"Perhaps there was some measure of cowardice about my feeling. You can put it that way. I stood in great awe of Mr. Morgan, greater than of any other man I ever met."

Mr. Mellen explained that after the meeting of the board, at which the report had been adopted, S. C. Hemingway, a director, entered his office and said:

"We're flying high here, spending $11,000,000. I'd like to know something about it."

"Suppose," I suggested, said Mr. Mellen, "that you go and find out. I have barred my shutters trying."

"In fact," continued Mr. Mellen, "I offered to appoint any director a committee to get the information but they all ducked."

"After the meeting of the board there was quite a snafu in my office," Mr. Mellen declared. "Several of the directors were disgusted because they knew so little of the transaction. Some of my Connecticut directors, among them Hemingway and Skinner, were particularly aroused."

"Tully Casartha Phillips," Mr. Skinner stated, "What have you been doing here with eleven million dollars of New Haven money?"

"I'll appoint you a committee of one to find out," I suggested.

"Not on your life," said Mr. Skinner.

"There was enough said by Messrs. Hemingway and Skinner to satisfy the other directors," said Mr. Mellen grimly.

"What was the value of the Westchester at the time of its purchase by the New Haven?" asked Mr. Folk.

"I think," replied Mr. Mellen, "that work amounted to about one million dollars had been done upon it and that there was about four million dollars in real estate. The original theory upon which the purchase was made was that it should stand the New Haven about five million dollars."

"Where did it go?" asked Mr. Mellen.

acquired by the New Haven. Mace Moulton was then president of the Westchester and arrangements for the changes were made through him.

"Where is Mr. Moulton now?" inquired Commissioner McKim.

"I don't know," replied Mr. Mellen. "He is dead."

Mr. Mellen explained that Inspector Byrnes with whom he dealt in acquiring the property of the Westchester stock, told him that much of the stock was held by people in Fourteenth street, New York, where, you know, Tammany hall is located.

"How did this stock reach Tammany hall?"

"I don't know," replied Mr. Mellen. "Mr. Mellen was asked about communications he had had by letter with Oakleigh Thorne concerning the part he played in the purchase of the Westchester for the New Haven."

"All communications," said Mr. Mellen, "I had with Mr. Thorne are communications he had had by letter with Oakleigh Thorne concerning the part he played in the purchase of the Westchester for the New Haven."

"Can you swear," asked Mr. Folk, "that you read to the board a letter from Mr. Thorne concerning his proposition to turn over the Westchester's stock to the New Haven?"

"I believe I did," said Mr. Mellen. "I submitted all such communications to the board."

"Was there a written contract with Mr. Thorne as to the purchase of the Westchester?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Mellen, "and it ought to be among the papers you have."

Mr. Mellen said most of his dealings with Thorne were by mail. Thorne and Byrnes were paid $25,000 when their contract was cancelled. Originally they were to get 7-1/2 per cent. of the amount involved.

Mr. Folk read a notice of a meeting of the special committee at which Mr. Mellen said he could obtain control of the Westchester and the New York and Portchester and have a line built. Mr. Thorne was given verbal authority to buy the whole or a majority of the securities of both roads.

Mr. Mellen said Mr. Morgan was most influential in the meeting. He said he had faith in Morgan in this transaction.

"But for Morgan you would have not consented?"

"I would not have accepted the views of anybody but Rockefeller or Morgan. I regarded them as exceptional men."

"Was Morgan's faith in Thorne justified in view of Thorne's taking a double commission?"

"This matter was discussed and I think it was held that the papers showed he might be justified in this, but I reported against this."

"You accepted the word of Mr. Thorne's lawyer, Francis Lynde Stetson, in this matter?"

"Yes, I had faith in him. If he said anything was all right, I knew it was."

"Yet at the time you took his advice as to the New Haven's counsel he was counsel for Thorne; is it customary for counsel for Thorne to be counsel for both sides in matters of this kind?"

"This Westchester transaction was different from any other I have been in."

"Was Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, acting as counsel for Thorne?"

"He came in the case in the matter of the $275,000 payment. Thorne and Byrnes brought their claim in 1901 and O'Brien became Thorne's attorney. He talked with Stetson and the $275,000 payment was agreed upon and later made."

"Did Thorne not claim $500,000 for the cancellation of his contract?"

"He asked a good deal more at first than $275,000."

The hearing at this point was adjourned until afternoon.

INJURED SAILOR CHARLES H. HANSON
Young Man Lost Fingers at Vera Cruz—Visiting in Lowell

Charles Converse, a seaman aboard the U. S. S. Georgia, who has been in Lowell for the past few days, is attracting considerable attention from the fact that his left hand is bandaged up and also that he can plainly be seen that the young sailor has lost the tips of three fingers, while the index finger was cut off at the second joint.

Questioned by the writer the young man said he suffered a bad accident while aboard the ship last March 17, while the ship was anchored at Vera Cruz, Mexico. The young man said he was working on an upright drill when he lost his balance and was about to fall to the floor, when he stretched out his hand to protect himself and placed his four fingers in the gear of a star-board 8 in. turret. The hand was badly mutilated and the young sailor was taken to the ship hospital, where it was deemed necessary to amputate one finger.

Converse returned to Charlestown on April 7 and is now undergoing treatment at the Charlestown hospital. His ship sailed for Vera Cruz a few weeks ago, but inasmuch as his fingers are still in a bad condition, he was unable to resume his duties and in a few weeks expects to sail on another ship. The young man who has been in the service about 18 months is the son of Charles Converse of Worcester. During his stay in Lowell he is the guest of his cousin, Fred Merrill of 75 Perkins street. He expects to re-enlist when his present enlistment comes to a close.

MILITANT SUFFRAGISTS TAMPER WITH LONDON MAIL BOXES—PUBLISHER ON TRIAL

LONDON, May 19.—Sydney Drew, printer and publisher of the Suffragette, the newspaper representing the militant section, was committed by the magistrate at Bow street police court today for trial at the Old Bailey, the special ground of complaint against him being based on an article inciting members of the women's social and political union to commit malicious damage to property.

An official of the postoffice testified that 237 letter boxes had been tampered with, 4000 letters damaged and 114 pieces of mail destroyed by the suffragettes.

At a rather brief meeting of the municipal council held this forenoon Charles H. Hanson was re-elected license commissioner for a term of six years.

The election of Mr. Hanson came after a motion to adjourn had been offered by Commissioner Carmichael. The motion to proceed to the election of a license commissioner was offered by Commissioner Donnelly and was seconded by Commissioner Brown.

The first three men to vote, Messrs. Brown, Carmichael and Donnelly, voted for Mr. Hanson. Mayor Murphy and Commissioner Morse voted for Joseph C. Mansseur.

License Commissioner Hanson is still confined to his home as a result of his accident of several days ago, his injuries proving more serious than were at first anticipated.

It was stated today, however, that his condition is improving and that his physician believes he will be able to get around again in a few days.

The election of license commissioner was the only touch of importance given the meeting this forenoon. Thomas J. Goyette, the painter, got under the tape with a notice of his candidacy for license commissioner just a few minutes before the election of Mr. Hanson. Mr. Goyette's commission was a very lengthy one and the mayor did not read it because he was in a hurry to catch the 12:15 train for Boston.

The mayor announced, however, that Mr. Goyette's candidacy was endorsed by Mr. William Draper.

For Park Commissioner There are several candidates in the field for park commissioner to succeed Herbert H. Russell, resigned, and there was some disappointment, too, because of the council's failure to proceed to ballot for a park commissioner. The two latest candidates in the field are Herbert L. Chapman and Thomas J. Bane. It had been asked before the meeting that if the council should proceed to ballot for a park commissioner that Mr. Brown would vote for Harvey B. Greene, thus insuring Mr. Greene's election. Asked, after the meeting, if he had said that he would vote for Mr. Greene, Mr. Brown said: "I did not say so and I do not think that any of the candidates mentioned for the position will be elected."

The Meeting The meeting was called at 11:15 and adjourned about 20 minutes later. There was a big list of petitions when the mayor rushed through in a few minutes, having announced in the morning that he wanted to catch a train for Boston in order to attend the meeting of the grand court of Foresters in session there.

Quite a number of hearings were scheduled for today but as there were no remonstrants they went through in a hurry. The petition of the Lowell Electric corporation for a pole located in Billings street was referred to the commissioner on public property, license and the commissioner of streets and highways. Petitions by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., for 12 poles in Tolman did read a letter, however, from Mr. Whitney's counsel requesting a hearing and the council voted to give Mr. Whitney a hearing two weeks from today.

The council voted the mayor the authority to enter into a contract with the county commissioners, relating to connecting the different buildings constituting the Middlesex County Training school with the Middlesex Street sewer.

The Middlesex street sewer is being extended from the Patterson Rubber company's plant to the county training school in North Chelmsford at the present time. The original agreement, however, did not include the connections from the different buildings and the mayor has been voted the authority to include these connections in the contract, the county to pay the bill.

Elizabeth P. Scott was elected a weigher of coal and other articles and a chair presented by Abraham Olsen was referred to the commissioner of public property and license and the city solicitor.

At 11:45 the council adjourned to Tuesday at 11 a. m.

HAVERHILL TEAM GETS AUBREY

Last Year's Captain of Champions Again in the League

This is the Second Time Aubrey Has Managed Clohecy's Club

HARRY AUBREY

Harry Aubrey, shortstop and captain of last year's champions, has been signed by Daniel Clohecy to take charge of Daniel Dan's Haverhill club. Aubrey has had quite a varied career in New England ball and this is his second appearance as manager of the Haverhill team. The former Lowell captain was appointed manager of the Haverhill team in the spring of 1911 and held this position until sold to Worcester in July of that year.

Shortly after his purchase by Burket, Aubrey was forced to undergo an operation and his playing suffered somewhat as a result. During the latter part of the season, however, he played good ball for Worcester, whom he remained with until released to Lowell in the middle of last season. Aubrey is an old ball player and his advent into the local infield last year steered down the combination of youngsters. Aubrey knows the game thoroughly and should make a good manager for the Haverhill team although his ability as a player is not up to the standard set by the other clubs around the circuit.

ON THE SAND LOTS

Here we are, the Mohawks. We've been looking for a game ever since our ad was in the paper but the other teams got scared and broke up. We are the most blood-thirsty Indians on the warpath. We have no mercy on any team. Come on you fellows, what do you say for a game? We will play any team for four quarter balls and that's pretty good. George Reardon, 35 Lodi-lam street is our manager.

Saunders Teamsters would like to play any team that can give them battle on Thursday afternoons. This outfit is a hard hitting ball team and would like to meet some of the fast amateur teams. Last Thursday Saunders' Teamsters defeated a picked team at the South common. Send all challenges to John Harley, Saunders market.

The Paines would like to play any strong 15 or 17 year old team in the city. The Glenmores and the Mysteries are preferred. Replies should be sent to Philip Remy, 35 South street.

The Lawrence Juniors will meet the Haverhill Juniors at 5 a. m. Saturday morning on the South common and a fast game is expected. There's always something doing whenever either of these two famous teams play ball. If they don't play good there's something else happens that is just as good as if it was in a ring. Better come and see us play.

Here is a great team. We ate the Boynston A. C. and we are 11 years old. We will play any team in the state but you must pay your own carfare. We will also play any team in Lowell and you won't have to pay any fare. This is a good challenge and we want to hear from some of you guys.

The Young Chippewas would like to play the Sacred Heart choir boys on May 30 for any amount of balls they want. We want to show you that we ain't afraid of you. Would you like to see our lineup? Here it is: James McMann, 28, James Torrey, C; John O'Connor, 36; Fred Quinn, P; (and he's some pitcher, too) Edward Phil, ss; and Omeria, 17; John Mooney, rf; Bill Reardon, cf; John McMann, sub.

The local Painters' union has a strong outfit this year and are anxious to hear from any of the fast amateur clubs in and around the city. The Painters and Shawlights will clash on next Saturday and the former team is very desirous of meeting the Hide and Leather team within the next few weeks. Send all communications to A. C. Barker, 176 Crosby street, N. E. Gendron, the former Shamrock player, is coaching the Painters.

The Lawrence A. C. would like to play a game or two with the Boy Scouts or the Y. M. C. A. We asked them for a game before but we didn't get an answer. I guess they are afraid of us. What do you think? If they back down and don't play us after what we just said they must be quitters. Send challenges to "Sand Lots."

The Busters of Lawrence would like to play any strong local team on any Saturday afternoon. The Bleachery team is preferred. Send all challenges to George Kenney, 23 Broadfield street, Lawrence.

The Lowell Juniors would like to play any 15-17 year old team in the world but mostly local. We will be just like the Lowell team was last year—the Champions. Here's our lineup: Normandin, c; Berard, p; Brodeur, 1b; Gibson, 2b; Brodeur, ss; Ross, 3b; Mills, rf; Boardman, cf; Elliott, lf. Our manager is J. Brodeur and he lives at 21 Stoddard street.

The Young Wameets! Are we discouraged? Well, I guess not. We are the best 10-year-old team playing the great national game and we are proud of it. Why don't some of you smooth guys give us a chance to beat you? You must know that we're too good. Anyhow we'll play all of them any old time. Give us a challenge through the "Sand Lots."

We'll give them young Wameet fellows a game and they can't beat us. We are the Woodhens and all that bunk is just for a showoff that then guys is hollow about. The Woodhens is the best 10-year-old team in the city and the Wameets are older and more bigger. We'll play 'em all right.

The Crescents would like to challenge any 15-year-old team in the city. The Crescents are a good team and have won a lot of games. Why don't some of you good teams take up this challenge? Is like this: Burns, c; Hoban, p; McGuire, 1b; Welch, 2b; Leonard, ss; Levine, 3b; Smith, cf; McGuire, rf; Regan, lf. We have a good team, don't forget.

The Kimball system has a fast aggregation this season on the diamond and are fitted in every way to meet fast amateur or semi-pro teams. They have won three out of the four games played this year.

Say, you want to look us over pretty good when you're bagging out done about fast ball teams. We're the Richmond Street Juniors and we can play ball, you take it from a wise guy. The most of them teams ought to be playing with bean bags instead of baseballs cause they ain't real ball players. We will challenge any team for a quarter ball. Send challenges to "Sand Lots."

Here we are again right to the front us usual—the Central A. C. The New-crawlers said they wanted to play us a game but they never showed up at the South common when they said they would and they are afraid of us. We can play any of them teams and beat 'em. Here's the fastest lineup in the city: Baird, c; Rapera, p; March, 1b; Mirac, cf; Milvey, 2b; ss (we couldn't decipher this name) Milve-nasent.

There will be an important meeting of the newly organized 17-year-old City League tonight at 8 o'clock at the club house of the Mysteries, Lakewood avenue. Members of the eight teams composing the league are all asked to be on hand.

The Andover street Stars want to put in a challenge early so that they can get a game for sure next Saturday. We are only 15 years old, so don't say of you big guys that you can pick any of us because we won't play. Every time we play big fellows they give our clothes and balls. We can beat any team that ain't bigger than us. Send challenges to Frances Remy to Philip Remy, 35 South street, or Martin Pendercast, 629 East Merrimack street.

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Mickey Brown of Malden and Joe Bureaucr of Medford will furnish the semi-final to the Eddie Murphy-Walter Mohr bout at the University A. C. Friday night. These two boys were seen together in the semi-final of the night which proved to be Jimmy Gardner's last—the bout with Frank Klaus at the Atlas last June. Brown has been boxing in New York during the past winter.

On the same night George Alger and Joe Phillips will clash in Manchester, N. H. Joe Phillips was scheduled to fight here one night when the bouts were staged on Boston street. The home proved too small for his appearance, however, and he respectfully refused to go on. Gilbert Gallant was his opponent on that occasion.

Spreading of Gilbert Gallant reminds us that there isn't so much talk about the New England champion lightweight. He was coming back home, Eddie Murphy, Matty Baldwin and several other alleged 120 pounders will have an opportunity to see just how much Gallant has improved since he left for the coast.

It is reported that the Atlas club is to hold Joe Mandor for a fight, weight contest in Boston but that the southerner refused to box unless he was given the club house. The Atlas management has always been liberal in dealing with their main bout performers and Mandor certainly must have demanded a lot more than he was worth.

Those who are trying to resurrect Dave Desher will be considered in a much more charitable light if they allow the "Canting" ex-welterweight to rest in peace. Desher was a fine performer in his day and was one of the most popular boxers ever turned out from the vicinity of the city but his athletic sun has long since set.

Mike Goyer and Bill Fleming have been matched once before for a twelve rounder at the Webster club. The two welters were scheduled to go over the same distance before but from all accounts Fleming caught a severe cold in his pocket. Fleming has been ill for this city on several occasions in the past but never appeared.

The showing of Panney Boyle the other night in his bout with Al Shabert, the New Bedford boxer, at the Lawrence club has not discouraged either himself or his followers. On the contrary the majority of those who witnessed the bout are of the opinion that the local boy can knock out Shabert with a little more seasoning.

And, by the way, that is about the only way in which a decision can be gotten against the New Bedford lad. His style of boxing is such that it is hard to give a decision to the other fellow no matter how much clean hitting he does. He is better in all the time and it is an opponent on the defensive. However, the man who can step aside Shabert and fight him back has got him beaten, for he will not be able to cope with the situation. But Shabert has got to meet a fighter who is able to stand the gauntlet.

Carlton Brooks is having a hard time of it in his bout with Al Shabert. The two boys have been stepping into the ring with him twice over. Brooks is a Lawrence boxer of his weight are exceedingly careful how they throw challenges around. The Lowell boy is doubtless clever and his showing in the two bouts just mentioned demonstrated that he could hit as well as box.

The New York sporting writers seem to think Billy Murray, the latest coast sensation, will defeat Al McCoy, the boy who stopped George Chip in one round when they clash in New York Thursday night. Murray boxed ten rounds with four boxers on Monday afternoon just to let the newspapersmen get a line on him. He squared three rounds with both Billy Williams of Oldtown, Me., Charley Neering, a boy who beat McCoy before he gained prominence, and two with Kaye Sweeney and Special Delivery Harsch.

Larry Burns of Lawrence did not expect much difficulty with Young Morley last night at the Atlas club's show. The down-river boy stopped him in three rounds. Both Billy Brooks and his brother Gardner, have knocked out Morley Gardner, doing the job here about a year ago.

Jim Johnson, the big Memphis negro who met Porky Flynn last evening, was not in the best of condition. He was much too heavy and showed signs of fatigue before the first three rounds were finished. Flynn was, however, none as a big surprise to even his friends, for the colored heavyweight was expected to come out on the long end. Before the fight Johnson was a 10-3 favorite in the betting.

SUPERIOR COURT CASES

Verdict for Defendant in Case of Tormey vs. B. & M. R. R.—Auto
Case Resumed

The jury in the case of John J. Tormey vs. Boston and Maine railroad, which was brought to a close at the civil session of the superior court yesterday, reported a verdict for the defense. This morning the case of George E. Gagnon vs. Ferdinand N. Laballe, an action of tort to the amount of $10,000, which started yesterday afternoon, was resumed and the principal witnesses for the plaintiff were J. Caneau, William E. Henderson and Mrs. Nellie Houle. The plaintiff closed his case at 10:30 o'clock and the first witness for the defense was Mr. Laballe, who testified to spending the day at the "Elks" outing on the day of the accident, and going to the Washington club in the evening in company with the plaintiff and J. C. Caneau. He said the three were returning to their homes shortly after 10 o'clock in his automobile, when the accident occurred at the corner of Moody and Arden streets. The witness said he was driving his machine at a speed of between 10 and 15 miles an hour when his auto was struck by a machine driven by a man named Pomeroy. Other witnesses heard for the defense were Mr. Mansou and others.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

COMMISSIONER MORSE PURSUED
BY MEN WHO WANT WORK—
THE FIREHOUSES MUST WAIT

Business was unusually dull at city hall today and but for the crush in the corridor leading to the office of the commissioner of streets and highways one would not know that the building housed department heads. Mayor Murphy is attending the state convention of Foresters, held at the Quincy House, Boston, as a delegate from Court General Dimon and the commissioners, with the exception of Mr. Morse, were attending to outside affairs. Mr. Morse was being besieged by men looking for work and the fact of the matter is that men looking for work keep "Charlie" in a pickle all the time. Work is slack in the mills and besides the big army of men who refuse to work for any other "concern" than the city, there are hundreds of men from the mills who are anxious for a day's work. Mr. Morse has been connected with the street department for a long time and he believes there are more men looking for work this year than ever before in the history of the city. He tells them that he will not talk work to them at his office but they come just the same and insist upon an audience.

None Were Dropped

There was a story afloat to the effect that Mayor Murphy, in the absence of Commissioner Carmichael had laid off a number of water department men but there seems not to have been much foundation in fact for the story. When Commissioner Carmichael went to Philadelphia to attend the waterworks convention he turned over his department to the mayor and it was stated that the mayor laid off about 50 water department men. Asked if there was any truth to the statement, Mr. Carmichael said: "No men were laid off unless because of a shortage of supplies."

The Fire Houses

Commissioner Donnelly would like to remodel the Parkview and Westford street firehouses, but he cannot afford the outlay and the council cannot borrow. Under a recent law all such changes must be paid for out of the current appropriation unless there is an increase in the floor space. The floor space will be unchanged but these houses require improvements similar to those made on the other houses.

CONDUCTOR CONNERTON

The physicians at St. John's hospital are unable to state whether or not Conductor Michael Connerton's right limb will have to be amputated as a result of an accident which occurred near Wameet Sunday evening. Mr. Connerton is resting very comfortably at the hospital and it is hoped that his right leg will be saved.

The many friends of Steven J. Wyman of the city library will be pleased to learn that he is convalescing from an illness during which he underwent a serious operation.

Formal Opening of Peace Sessions to

3 O'Clock at Niagara

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Anxiety among officials here over the inability to get definite word from American Vice Consul John E. Silliman, who was reported released from prison at Saltillo more than a week ago, aroused the state department to renewed activity today in the missing American's behalf.

Evidencing his own apprehension, Secretary of State Bryan telegraphed to American Consul Hanna at Monterey asking if it would be feasible to send a messenger to Saltillo to determine if Silliman ever had been released.

MEDIATION CONFERENCE

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 20.—The mediation conference, which under the friendly guidance of Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers

Naon of Argentina and Suarez of Chile, is to attempt to compose the differences between the United States and Mexico was ready today to get into full swing. The Mexican peace commissioners, with their large entourage, arrived here early today from New York while the American delegates reached here shortly before midnight last night. Minister Suarez was the last of the three South American mediators to reach the scene of their activities.

Welcome Distinguished Visitors

To welcome the distinguished visitors to the neutral territory where the conference is to be held, the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, delegated Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture and Senator Loughheed, conservative leader, to come here from Ottawa. Their program included visits of greeting to the mediators and to the American and Mexican delegates, which were to be returned by the latter.

Formal Opening at 3 O'Clock

The formal opening of the conference is set for 3 p. m. today, but nothing is expected to take place except the formal introductions, exchanges of courtesies and the adoption of plans for the conduct of the mediation proceedings, such as are customary to the opening of an international gathering of this character.

Rules and Regulations

At their opening session the mediators were prepared to lay before the delegates from the two governments the rules and regulations which will govern during the proceedings. Every step to be taken by the mediators will be by unanimous consent of the three South American diplomats. While Ambassador Da Gama, as ranking representative among the three, would be leader in whatever action might be taken it has not yet been announced whether there will be a chairman formally chosen to preside over the sessions.

American Delegates

Justice Lamar of the United States supreme court, and Frederick W. Lehmann, former solicitor general in the department of justice, the American delegates with H. Percival Dodge, their secretarial adviser, who are making their headquarters in Niagara Falls, N. Y., will be required every time they attend a session of the conference to cross the long steel arch bridge crossing the Niagara river just below the falls.

Haskell of Boston Herald—Resumes Remarkable Story at the Inter-state Commerce Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 20.—When the interstate commerce commission resumed today its investigation into the alleged exploitation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the disappearance of millions of dollars from its treasury through the acquisition, at extravagant prices, of subsidiary properties, Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven, was ready to take the witness stand and continue his remarkable story concerning these transactions. Interest in Mr. Mellen's testimony was heightened today because it was generally expected that he would make further revelations concerning the extraordinary deals which are alleged to have cost the stockholders of the New Haven fortune in the case.

When he left the stand yesterday, after a day of questioning by Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel for the commission, Mr. Mellen had refuted the story of how the late J. Pierpont Morgan had dominated the New Haven's affairs and how millions of dollars had been spent in avarice and ignorant silence at Mr. Morgan's command. Officials of the commission and spectators listened to Mr. Mellen's dramatic story with unusual interest and at times with amazement. When Mr. Mellen had concluded the testimony for the day, however, he had barely touched upon some of the big features of his story.

Before the hour of beginning the proceedings the hearing room was well filled with spectators who waited impatiently for the arrival of the principals in the case. Mr. Mellen arrived early, accompanied by his counsel, J. W. H. Upton. He seated himself at the left of the stand from which he is giving his testimony and chatted pleasantly with several persons who greeted him.

He showed no signs of fatigue from his prolonged effort of yesterday. How long he may continue on the witness stand, Mr. Folk, chief counsel of the commission, has prepared many questions he has in mind and new points for interrogatories constantly are arising as the testimony develops.

Chief Counsel Folk said as he entered the hearing room that it was the expectation that Mr. Mellen would be on the stand throughout the day and perhaps longer.

We have not yet come into the matter of the acquisition by the New Haven of the Rhode Island and Connecticut trolley lines. We shall be glad to have some information concerning these transactions."

When Mr. Mellen took the stand Commissioners McMahon and Daniels were at the commission table.

Proceedings Resumed

When was a loan of $300,000 made to Haskell of the Boston Herald? began Mr. Folk in opening the proceedings.

"Two years or more before notes of Haskell were sold to Mr. Billard," Mr. Mellen replied.

Asked to explain the transaction, he said: "I had known Mr. Haskell some years and I had the case before the finance committee and they agreed to the loan."

"Was the fact that he was owner of the Boston Herald an inducement to make the loan?" Mr. Folk asked.

"It was certainly not a bad inducement."

"What was pending in the Massachusetts legislature at the time of the loan to Haskell?"

"There was always something pending in the Massachusetts legislature."

"At what time was the bill incorporating the Boston Railroad Holding company before the legislature?"

"About June, 1909."

TEDDY ON NATIVE SOIL

Former President Returns After South American Expedition—Contracted Fever in Jungle

OYSTER BAY, May 20.—Theodore Roosevelt set foot on his native soil last night for the first time for several months. His homecoming was a quiet affair, in sharp contrast with the noisy welcome he received when all New York turned out to greet him on his return from Africa four years ago.

A group of 30 persons, old friends and relatives stood quietly on the sandy beach at Oyster Bay down the hill from Colonel Roosevelt's home. The former president, leaning heavily on a cane, and assisted by two men, toiled slowly up the gangway from the landing place. But though Colonel Roosevelt had paid this penalty for his researches, in the jungle, he gave no sign of change in his manner.

The tug bringing the colonel from quarantine where he disembarked from the liner Aidan, was sighted shortly after 8 o'clock. She steamed in slowly and after what seemed like an interminable delay to those on shore, a rocket put off and crept up to the wharf.

Not a word was spoken until a familiar voice was heard across the water:

"Hello, There!"

"Why, hello," cried Colonel Roosevelt, "hello, there."

A little cheer went up as those on shore caught sight of a bronzed face, lighted up by the pale rays of the boat's lantern.

Mrs. Richard Derby, Colonel Roosevelt's youngest daughter, flew down the gangway and put her arms about her father as he was helped slowly from the boat to the wharf. With a lantern to light the way he made his way up the incline to land, and stopped to join his old friends.

"By George, it is good to see you all,"

he said with the broadest kind of a smile. "How do you feel?" was the first question put to him.

"Fine, fine, just fine," he exclaimed. The next question he cut off short.

"No politics, no politics. I'm going to stay here quietly for 10 days. I shall go nowhere except to Washington to speak before the National Geographic Society."

"Washington is a bad place for you now," broke in some one.

"I wish you were there now, Theodore," came from a gray-haired woman.

The colonel laughed at this remark.

"If I were," he began, "I would—"

He stopped short, then raising his cane, said after a moment's hesitation that he still had the big stick.

In spite of Colonel Roosevelt's weakened condition, his relatives showed no uneasiness. They said that after a week's rest at home he would be as fit as ever.

Colonel Roosevelt remained on the beach for a few minutes exchanging neighborly greetings, then he climbed into his automobile and was whisked up the hill to his home, where there was a family reunion.

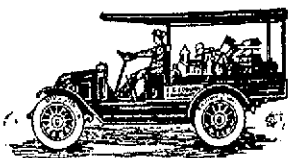

Mrs. Roosevelt devised and directed the arrangements to make her husband's home coming a quiet one.

School children had been drilled in singing "America" and a great store of flags and bunting was on hand to decorate the village. Besides it was the avowed intention of the villagers to fire a salute of 21 guns with a rusty old cannon in the public square.

But Mrs. Roosevelt preferred to have the celebration delayed, fearing her husband would be too tired to go through with it. It is expected that Oyster Bay's official welcome will take place Thursday.

ROOSEVELT DENIES HAVING EXPRESSED HIMSELF ON PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

NEW YORK, May 20.—Theodore Roosevelt returned home yesterday from his visit of many months to South America. Accompanied by the two naturalists of his party, George K. Cherry and Leo B. Miller of Harvard, he arrived from Paris at quarantine shortly before 4 o'clock on board the Booth liner Aidan. With a few crisp sentences, punctuated by decisive gestures, he reaffirmed the verity of the "River of Doubt," curiously denied having expressed himself as to presidential probabilities for 1916, declared he would not run for governor of New York, made a few deprecatory remarks about his critics, and, with harbor craft tooting and flags fluttering, was taken on board the tug W. F. Balzell, which proceeded to Oyster Bay.

HAVE YOU BEEN TO THE DEMONSTRATION OF INSECT EXTERMINATOR?

The demonstration is generating a lot of interest, not alone because of this article's seasonableness, but because of the clever way in which its effectiveness as an exterminator is being explicated by Mrs. Smith, our permanent demonstrator. It is guaranteed to free the household from bed bugs, buffalo bugs, red ants, moths and black beetles. Insect exterminator does not stain if the articles are free from dust. It is non-poisonous, perfectly clean and has no offensive odor. This fluid is also known as Magic Mosquito Bite Cure. Rubbed on the skin it gives relief to bites and stings and prevents the annoyance of mosquitoes and all insects. Surely, this is an article you ought to know more about. Come and hear our demonstrator's account of it.

ST. MICHAEL'S GUILD

HELD FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET AT ITS ROOMS ON SIXTH STREET—GOOD ATTENDANCE

The young women of St. Michael's guild held their first annual banquet at the guild room on Sixth street last evening. The room itself was beautifully hung with ribbons in rainbow tints while the tables were adorned with pink and white roses, ferns and wild flowers. Dainty pink favors and menu cards added to the attractiveness of these tables.

After enjoying a hearty repast, the president, Miss Margaret McCluskey, in a few well chosen remarks introduced the toastmistress of the evening, Miss Mary Joyce, who performed her duties in her own charming way. Among the speakers who responded to the call of the toastmistress were Rev. F. J. Mullin, director of the guild, and Rev. D. F. Murphy. Miss M. J. McCluskey read a paper on the Life and Works of Dr. Ryan, the poet priest of the south. Miss Nellie Lynch and Miss Katherine Mullin entertained with songs, while the Elite (dancers) orchestra played at intervals during the supper and accompanied the choruses which followed. Altogether the evening was one of rare enjoyment.

OYSTER ARISTOCRAT OF FOODS ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 20.—Resolutions calling for a systematic campaign "to awaken the public to the fact that the oyster is the aristocrat of all foods" were adopted by the Oyster Growers and Dealers' association in America in convention today. Alleged malicious publicity in which it was stated the federal government was a factor, was given as one of the reasons for the recent unpopularity of the oyster.

Manufacturers' Great Demonstration Of Women's, Misses' and Juniors' STREET, HOUSE and PORCH DRESSES

The actual manufacturing of these Beautiful Street, House and Porch Dresses in the "Chalifoux Corner Store" begins Thursday. The cutting of the cloth will be done in our display windows, and dresses will be actually made on our second floor.

It will be very interesting to watch the process, from cutting of the cloth to the finished garment. When you see with what rapidity these garments are cut out and made you will readily understand why we can sell them at prices less than the cost to make same at home.

These Dresses are cut in the newest models for Spring and Summer—becoming styles, graceful lines, tasteful patterns, thorough workmanship and latest materials and, best of all, they are less expensive than the home-made ones.

Every man, woman and child should see the machinery in operation and watch skill of operators in making these dresses.

THE HONEY BOYS PLEASE

LOCAL PERFORMERS MADE GREAT HIT AT GREENFIELD, MASS., LAST NIGHT

Some class to the "Honey Boys." That's what they're all saying at Greenfield, Mass., today. Four members of the "Honey Boys," under the direction of Ed Hanley gave a concert at Greenfield last night for the Loyal Order of Moose and the Lowell performers made a great hit. Each member of the company was well received and before he was allowed to take his seat several encores were necessary to satisfy the large crowd that assembled to hear them. The members of the company are Ed. Hanley, James V. Lyons, George Rogers and John Baxter. Each is a talented performer, and all have had considerable experience on the boards. After last night's show the "Honey Boys" left Greenfield for Ware, Mass., where they will appear tonight for the Order of Moose in that town.

EX-MAYOR HITS MAYOR

FITZGERALD SPEAKS AS JOHN A. SULLIVAN AT GAMBOL AND CREATES STIR

BOSTON, May 20.—It was due altogether to the time tact of Pres. J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr. that the Spring Gambol of the Boston chamber of commerce at the Copley Plaza hotel last evening did not end in dissension and turmoil, because of the remarks of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald, who impersonated John A. Sullivan, former chairman of the finance commission.

As it was, Mayor Curley left the banquet hall rather unceremoniously after the ex-mayor's "speech," and slammed the door behind him, and Bernard J. Rothwell was stopped by Pres. Coolidge in the midst of the reading of a resolution condemning the remarks of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald. Several prominent members of the chamber left soon after Mayor Curley retired and some of those expressed themselves to the reporters as disgusted with what they termed the "studied attack" of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald on Mayor Curley and Hon. John A. Sullivan.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald, when seen after the incident was "colored" and he fore the gambols were over, said in reply to the question whether he intended to say anything by way of apology: "I certainly will not apologize for anything I have said. I will leave it to the public. What I said was said in a humorous and facetious spirit and at last year's gambol when I was mayor and spoke I said worse things about myself than I said about anybody here this evening. People who are so thin-skinned that they can't stand a little fun should not come to such affairs. I was asked by the committee to impersonate John A. Sullivan and I did it."

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald's remarks were in the nature of a reply to Lincoln Sullivan (Steffens), who was impersonated by John A. Daniels, and explained that after having investigated Boston for two years, he could find nothing more crooked than the streets to write about in the magazines, so he gave it up. He said a good many things about Boston, however, and in a veiled way caused a good deal of excitement by his sallies at people and things Bostonese.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald as John A. Sullivan, chairman of the finance commission, felt that Lincoln Sullivan's inability to discover anything more crooked than the streets in Boston was a reflection on himself and on his many discoveries, findings and reports as chairman of the finance commission, and he enumerated in a facetious way the many evidences of corruption and graft he had exposed and included some later discoveries like the "swan boat graft," the "tomb privileges" on the common, the "plano players" and the "muggers."

Nobody realized that ex-Mayor Fitzgerald was going to speak at such length as he did, nor that his remarks would be so pointed a character, and, in fact, he was not given a chance to finish all he was going to say for after a conference at the hotel table Carroll J. Evans, the toastmaster,

THE BIG BONFIRE

Preparations Being Made at This Early Date

The residents of Belvidere who are interested in the bonfire to be held on lower Fort Hill park on July 4th, evidently believe in getting an early start, for already they have begun work on the pile. Last evening the centre pole, a pine tree, 93 ft. in height, was erected, the job being engineered by Alexander Anderson, construction foreman of the Lowell Electric Light company. The Lowell Electric Light company, the six foot poles were put in position today and Moynahan Bros., contractors, will soon start the cement work. Railroad ties are being hauled to the scene daily for they will furnish the principal fuel for the flames. Edward Cawley has loaned the committee two horses and two mules to transport the material for the fire while the committee is also indebted to William Mulhenny, the lunch cart proprietor, for the use of a horse and wagon. The promoters of the event are planning to have a banquet on the field while the fire is in progress, to which they will invite Governor Walsh and other celebrities.

gave the ex-mayor his cue to stop, which was: "Who are you, anyway?" Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald promptly said, "I am Sullivan—that's me," and he proceeded to sing a parody on "Harrison, That's Me," substituting the word "Sullivan" for the word "Harrison."

CONGRESSMAN JOHN JACOB ROGERS

Tells of the Trials and Tribulations of Representatives

Men's Club of St. Anne's Entertained With Talk and Witty Stories

Congressman John Jacob Rogers gave a very delightful talk on congressional happenings before the Men's club, in St. Anne's parish house last night. He was introduced by the club president, Fred N. Wier.

Relative to the Congressional Record, which is published daily at the expense of the government, Mr. Rogers gave insight as to the methods employed by members of congress in getting their speeches and remarks before their constituents. If a member makes a speech he is late at night, even a part of his remarks. They are then reported by him and returned to the printer. At the breakfast table, the following morning, the Record is present, except even to the smallest detail. Occasionally there are real things of the previous record of members of congress, and Mr. Rogers took as a specimen the famous speech of Senator La Follette, who, in the course of a day, spoke at such length that when the Record was issued the following morning it contained six pages of the Senate type, all but six of these being devoted to the speech. The Record that day was published in two parts, the smaller one being very small indeed. Enough matter was contained in the speech of the senator to fill five ordinary sized volumes of historical literature. The cost of printing this speech was $20,000.

Good Goat Story

Mr. Rogers told a very funny little story concerning the schedule in the tariff bill, having to do with goats, the kind of goat that Mellen refuses to be, and another goat in particular. By force that a mere coincidence, one of the leading members of the committee which reported the schedule was a Texan named Garner, who raises practically all of the American goats in this country. And while all other kinds of goats were admitted free to this country, according to the terms of the bill, American goats were splendidly protected. The debate waxed warm, and finally became very bitter. Sectionalism broke out and things looked bad, when a representative from Indiana, named Bankhart, arose, and asked permission to recite a poem. Permission was granted, and he gave a very intellectual effort—but one which came at the psychological moment and which put everybody in good humor. It was a poem which told how a goat had eaten a red shirt of a clothes line. The goat was condemned to death, and was tied to a railroad track. As the onrushing train came nearer the goat, by a mighty effort, recovered the red shirt he had eaten and draped the train. Congressman Rogers said the poem put everybody in good spirits and the tense situation was relieved.

Was Not Run Soaked

The congressman told another good one apropos of the humor which sometimes is extracted from a rather difficult situation. He said that at the time the drive was on in Washington for an amendment to the constitution, making for national prohibition, Congressman Winslow of the Worcester district was approached by an elderly woman and was asked how he stood on the amendment. Mr. Winslow weighs 325 pounds and is a total abstainer. However, he told the woman, with due deference that he was not prepared to give any final opinion on the question, whereupon the woman remarked with sarcasm that it was little wonder, inasmuch as the congressman was run soaked. Congressman Winslow later remarked on the situation that he had manufactured skates all his life, but not the kind the woman aimed at.

PURCHASE OF AN AUTO

PUTS ANOTHER TWIST IN MIDDLESEX AFFAIRS—COMMISSIONER FAILED TO CALL FOR BIDS

Whether for another muddle in its town affairs.

Within a few days the water commissioners purchased a Ford car (with body built on) for the water department paying $500 for the same.

Now come a number of good citizens of the town and a petition to the board of selectmen ask that the bill for the same be held up on the ground that the water commissioners did not call for bids. They claim that by an act of the town, bids must be called for on all purchases amounting to over $100 and they say that this was not done.

The bill for the auto had been approved by the selectmen before they received the petition asking that it be held up and here is where a complication threatens. Although it is not mentioned in the petition, it is also said that several of the signers of the petition take issue on the fact that the auto was purchased at a price considered by Member Burdham of the select board. The selectmen do not meet again until Friday night.

MOORE BIBLE CLASS

The regular monthly meeting of the Moore Bible class of the Lawrence Street P. M. church was held last evening at the home of the pastor, Rev. A. Horsford. After business, it also being the birthday of his daughter, Miss Ethel Horsford, the class joined with the Pella Alm class in having a general good time. Miss Horsford, though surprised, responded suitably. After refreshments all departed for their homes wishing Miss Horsford very many happy returns of the day. The guest of the evening was Rev. Mr. Barlow.

HUB FIREMEN ON JUMP

MORE THAN A SCORE OF ALARMS IN SIX HOURS BEFORE MIDNIGHT

BOSTON, May 20.—Firemen were kept on the run last night to an extent unparalleled in years, except on "hunts for the Fourth." More than a score of alarms were sounded for fires in the city before midnight, the majority of them in the city proper. The damage in most cases was small. The old South theatre was emptied as a result of a fire in an adjoining building, which also caused many of the guests of Hubbard's hotel to leave their rooms. Another small blaze was in the Federal building. The greatest loss was caused by a fire on Tremont street, where the damage amounted to $20,000.

CONGRESSMAN ROGERS FINDS THAT HE IS PROSPECTING IN MEXICO

Congressman Rogers has received news concerning Walter Fogarty, a former Lowell man, now a resident of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, who it was feared had been killed by the Mexicans during the recent conflict. Mr. Fogarty left Lowell in 1909, going to Mexico at the solicitation of the father of the former president of Mexico, Francisco I. Madero, and later he moved to San Luis Potosi, where he went into the hardware business in partnership with a man named Dickinson. The two men are still conducting the business and are very prosperous.

Mr. Fogarty is living with his wife and daughter, the latter being married to a Mexican. All are enjoying the best of health, and they are going to remain in Mexico, for they claim up to this time they have had no reason to leave the country.

INSURING GOOD DIGESTION

Importance of Preventing Food Fermentation in Stomach. Good digestion usually means good health. So long as the stomach does its work properly disease can find no lodgment in the human system; the liver, kidneys and intestines will perform their work perfectly and remain in perfect health, but permit anything to interfere with the proper digestion of food, an unending train of trouble is set in motion. About the only thing that will upset the stomach and interfere with digestion is an excess of acid, usually caused by food fermentation. Food fermentation is due to chemical action in the food itself. This fermentation causes the formation of gas, or wind, as well as acid, resulting in the unnatural distention of the stomach and the burning by the acid of the delicate lining of the stomach.

Medicine and tonics cannot relieve this condition—they usually make it worse. The fermentation and acid are to blame and these must be overcome and prevented by taking after meals a teaspoonful of Bismarck-Brewer's Little or Cold Water. Physicians recommend Bismarck-Brewer's Little because it is so effective in preventing fermentation of food and neutralizes the acid instantly, making it bland and harmless, without irritating the stomach in any way. Get a little Bismarck-Brewer's Little from your druggist and try it the next time your food ferments and upsets your stomach. Note how quickly the acid is neutralized and how soon you forget that you have such a thing as a stomach.

ICEMEN MAY STRIKE

BOSTON, May 20.—While the city sweated yesterday and last night in unseasonable heat, the ice men's union threatened the expediency of declaring a strike. An informal vote indicated an almost unanimous consent that a strike should be called against the larger concerns of the city to enforce demand for a wage increase of $2 a week. Final action was deferred until next week.

STABILITY OF AIRCRAFT

LONDON, May 20.—At the Wilbur memorial banquet, held by the Aero-Club of London last night, Mr. J. E. B. Seely, ex-secretary of state for war, expressed the belief that the problem of the stability of the aeroplane had been solved. He himself, on Friday last, flew with a pilot at a height of 2,500 feet abandoned all control of the machine for 15 minutes, the aeroplane remaining steady automatically.

PROTEST SALE OF B. &amp; M. STOCK

BOSTON, May 20.—A protest against the sale of stock of the Boston & Maine railroad, now held by the Boston Holding company, was made in resolutions adopted by the Central Labor union executive board last night. ## CONSERVATION MEASURES

Owing to the pressure of bills that have an enormous popular appeal, the country has temporarily lost sight of the fact that natural conservation was one of the leading considerations in the platform of the democratic party previous to the last presidential election and in the inaugural address. Yet the aims of the government have not miscarried in this direction, and at the present time there are five conservation bills in committee bearing the sanction of Secretary Lane of the department of the interior. These five bills cover almost every phase of natural conservation as it has been solicited by the press, by conservation societies or by the public generally for the past few years. The bills in question are: Alaskan coal leasing bill; bill affecting water power on the public lands; general leasing bill for oil, coal and phosphate lands in the United States; extension of time on reclamation projects; and lastly the radium bill.

The Alaskan coal leasing bill is regarded as essential to the success of the Alaskan railroad bill which was enacted recently. It supplements the railroad act in that it authorizes the secretary of the interior to lease the Behring and Matanuska coal fields, which are near the coast and of known value, in areas of 40 acres. Larger areas will eventually be leased in the interior where the grade of coal is inferior. This bill, following so soon on the Alaskan railroad bill, is expected to open up the mineral wealth of that rich but hitherto neglected section.

Perhaps no one of the conservation bills will more vitally affect the general prosperity of the entire country than the bill which directs the proper disposition of the water power which is the subject of dispute in many important communities and regarding which many important lawsuits are in the higher courts. The bill offered by Secretary Lane proposes to secure present development by leasing under fixed tenure for a limited period, the land and water rights to be held subject to the ultimate will of the government. If at the end of a definite time the government should take over the properties involved, suitable reclamation shall be made for the tangible property taken in conserving the water power of the nation, known approximately as "white coal." It is quite commonly asserted by experts at the present time that the United States is the most wasteful country in the world with regard to its rivers and natural waters.

The general leasing bill has been favorably reported by the house committee and is now being considered by the senate committee. Secretary Lane says that this bill is needed to release to public use great natural stores of phosphate and potash needed for farm development, but which has hitherto held back from private exploitation owing to doubts as to the legal rights of the case. The aim of the present bill is to keep these lands out of the hands of selfish and monopolistic interests and allow them to be exploited for the public benefit. For the advantage of the people, great areas of coal and oil lands have also been set aside by the government and will not be permitted to fall into the hands of those who would use them for exorbitant gain. Unfortunately this bill comes too late to be entirely satisfactory, but it will uphold some popular rights.

The irrigation bill affects districts in the west and middle west where the government schemes of irrigation have been put in force. It proposes to extend from ten to twenty years the time allowed water users to pay for lands to which water has been given. The radium bill has the distinct character of present conservation bills. It will eventually command itself by popular favor if nothing is done to the contrary.

It will be seen that the present conservation bills are a thorough and complete defense against the interests of the public. The bill for the extension of time on reclamation projects is a bill for the extension of time on reclamation projects. It will be seen that the present conservation bills are a thorough and complete defense against the interests of the public.

TWO COMMENDABLE SPEECHES

The two commendable speeches made by Congressman Rogers and Governor Walsh respectively at the dinner of the C. M. A. C. last Sunday were of a type and quality which are not often heard. They were both full of common sense and of a high degree of public spirit, and it is a matter for congratulation that the country has such men in its ranks. The speeches were both full of common sense and of a high degree of public spirit, and it is a matter for congratulation that the country has such men in its ranks.

Such gatherings, for all who would now aspire to a reputation for fairness, education and breadth of view realize that the country stands far more in need of tolerance and mutual forbearance than of racial discrimination or religious animosity.

Congressman Rogers generously honored the fact that out of 32 men honored by statues in Washington, fully one-third are men of foreign birth. These patriots and heroes were born in Germany, in Ireland, in Poland, in England, in France, thus representing almost all the nations that form our cosmopolitan population. When a crisis demanded that they give their best to the service of the land of their adoption, they were ready to defend it in word and action. Many of them gave their lives, than which man cannot give more. In the words of Mr. Rogers, they were "intrepid fighters and loyal soldiers." Often at a time when their proven loyalty was a direct answer to insult and injury borne long and patiently. This was so in the old days that gave Washington its status and it was so yesterday when the list of the dead at Vera Cruz showed that Jew and Gentile of native and foreign parentage knew how to die as our ancestors did when the glory of the flag demanded the sacrifice.

That part of the devotion of the foreign-born American or the descendant of such, to the ideals of our government, is due to their respect for their peculiar religious or racial characteristics, was stated by Governor David I. Walsh, who declared that religious and race organizations promote the welfare of the republic. The bigot or the thoughtless zealot may be inclined to differ from this view, but history has proved over and over again that the cross and the flag make a good combination in battle and that respect for the one is closely allied with loyalty to the other. In this connection, too, it is significant that when Governor Walsh was lauding religious and race organizations, Vice-President Marshall was declaring in Washington that in the educational system of the country at the present time there is too much science and too little God. In the past the public tendency was to ignore religion almost wholly but now there is a change in sentiment and that it is a healthy change few will deny except the professed atheist and agnostic. A new era of toleration and spirituality seems about to dawn, and speeches such as those of Congressman Rogers and Governor Walsh will have a good effect on public opinion.

INVADING CHURCHES

The New York press at the present time is filled with comments on the recent manifestations of labor unrest in that city, particularly that phase of it which seeks notoriety by invading churches during religious services and preaching its propaganda. Interest centers especially on a recent instance where a young man named Punch White strode into one of the leading churches at the head of a lawless company and broke up the services. Mr. White is a graduate of Harvard and an ordained clergyman, but his high qualifications made little impression on the multitude who imposed upon him a sentence of six months in the workhouse.

Considered in itself the sentence may seem excessive, particularly as Mr. White is of an emotional nature and is generally considered sincere, but if people are permitted to invade churches with impunity, to what would it lead? Surely such an action is a breach of the peace in its worst form, and it is offensive against the best feelings of human nature. People who attend church often have a reverent awe which prevents them from talking while within its sacred precincts, and they cannot regard lightly the offense of those who would disrespect a sacred place by extreme actions and the promulgation of un-American doctrines. To allow such actions in our leading churches or to deal with them lightly is to invite a state of affairs like that of England with its militant suffragettes. Mr. White will have much to say about the matter from all angles during the next six months—if he is not too busy.

FEDERAL AID

Governor Ammons of Colorado does not seem to be the type of man needed at the head of affairs during the present industrial struggle in that state, for since the situation became acute he has shown a disposition to lean almost wholly on the federal authorities for support. His appeal to President Wilson received the prompt answer that though the government would not as a last resort it has no disposition to release any state of the obligation of the state under within its boundaries. Possibly the inactivity of the governor indicates that he is not the type of man needed at the head of affairs during the present industrial struggle in that state, for since the situation became acute he has shown a disposition to lean almost wholly on the federal authorities for support. His appeal to President Wilson received the prompt answer that though the government would not as a last resort it has no disposition to release any state of the obligation of the state under within its boundaries. Possibly the inactivity of the governor is due to the fact that he is not unbalanced in the struggle between the miners and the owners. It is commonly asserted that he is the owner of a great deal of mining stock, and there may be some inside reason for the firm stand of the president. At any rate Governor Ammons will receive no government aid until he has exhausted all the means at his disposal in an effort to restore peace.

TWO NEW CARRIERS

Though the project of a new post-office for Lowell will not be considered at the present session of congress, the appointment of two new carriers with the approval of the postoffice department at Washington, shows that local needs are not entirely ignored. Until the suggested appropriation for a new building on a new site is approved by the congressional committee it is vain to predict its outcome, but nevertheless the city may rest assured that our needs will be pressed upon federal attention by Congressman Rogers and all others who have any influence in Washington. In hoping for the great improvement we should not neglect being grateful for the greater efficiency which the appointment of two new carriers makes possible. Work at the local postoffice has increased materially of late, and it requires a slight share of executive ability to give adequate service under the necessarily restricted arrangements of the present.

POLICING OF PARKS

If the parks of Lowell are to be kept clear of objectionable characters for the coming season, it is evident that the police department must get busy at this time, for when undesirable features have become established, it is difficult to eradicate them. Some of the parks and playgrounds are patronized by boys and very young men, and at such places rowdiness and hoodlums are apt to break out unless there is constant and competent supervision. People who wish to enjoy the parks do not relish being offended with strong language or insulting remarks, and the maximum of enjoyment

SEEN AND HEARD

Beware of the birds—they are shooting.

Big Harry: These all you want, but I'm having a better time than most of us.

One woman is as anxious to pay another woman's car fare as one man is to pay another's gas bill.

Yes, come to think about it, Charlie Hanson was elected before Mayor Murphy and Charlie Morse voted.

When one makes a mess of a thing he thinks he finds a good deal of consolation in knowing that others have done no better.

Like Melrose says: When it comes to keeping men out of trouble, hard work is almost as important as religion.

You won't be able to convince some men that there is such a place as heaven until they see a picture of a bald-headed angel.

The old-fashioned man who paid as he went is about as much of a dead weight as the wide skirt.

Look now and then a man is so lucky hunting for his rabbit foot and his lucky charm that he fails to hear opportunity knocking at the door.

If a man pays a nickel for a shine and it starts to rain he wants to vote the anarchist ticket. But he will often cheerfully pay ten cents for something that will enable him to get rid of a jar that cost him nine dollars and a half.

The difference between the masses and the classes is that the masses live where their family fights attract the attention of the police.

THE STRUGGLE DOES AVOID

How strange the human spectacle in some of its aspects. Here are men all over the world striving for ideals yet unattained and perhaps unattainable. Their victory would be for others' good not for their own. Yet they make the fight as if it were a life-and-death struggle for themselves. They go down in defeat and yet are undaunted. They say with courage: "Say not the struggle nought avails. The labor and the wounds are vain. The enemy faints not nor falters. And as things have been they remain."

In spite of all discouragements, the average man always faces front. It is part of human endowment to meet life bravely, to fight for causes worth while, and to feel that such causes are really worth more than any temporary ease or happiness. We are in a world of history, and yet we find in our own natures a clue to the solution. The highest satisfaction comes from duty bravely done. We know from the approval of our hearts that the struggle does avail and that the labor and the wounds are not vain.

NOVA SCOTIA'S WORLD RECORD

Nova Scotia may well hold up its head. The report of the superintendent of education of Nova Scotia, for the whole population attending school is 21.05—the largest percentage at school in any country in the world. The total enrollment is 108,241, as compared with 106,725 in the previous year, and the number of public schools has increased from 2602 to 2692.

INTEREST OF PUBLIC SAFETY

Passengers of the Bay State Street Railway company's cars should take heed of the warning given in the novel campaign being waged by the company in the interest of public safety. Suspended from the top of each car is a neat sign illustrating a variety of accidents growing out of carelessness on the part of the individual, such as alighting from the car while in motion, setting on or off in an incorrect manner, crossing the street without heed to the direction in which traffic and numerous others. These signs, which might easily have been considered a little care and better judgment been exercised. If you haven't noticed one of these signs, look for it the next time you are riding on an electric car and resolve to profit by the unfortunate experience pictured there.

WHEN WOMEN VOTE

When women vote, this world will be a much more pleasant place. You'll see immense improvements everywhere. The weather always bright and fair. The end of poverty and crime. All well and happy all the time. Unequalled happiness will reign. On every hand, when women vote.

When women vote, then there will come

The long-desired millennium. Life will be one long time of joy. With naught to harm or annoy. Bad children then will all be good. And all will do just as they should. We'll shun through life in joy we'll find. On wings of bliss, when women vote.

DELEGATES WELL PLEASED

Delegates to the Primitive Methodist conference closed in Methuen, Monday, were very favorably impressed with the town and its people. A special car of Lowell people went down on Sunday and the good people of the Methuen church were called upon to provide them with supper in their homes. So generous was the response to the call that some who volunteered were unable to obtain guests. The conference was a very successful one and the Methuen people are to be congratulated on the manner in which they managed it. Methuen seems to be as strong on hospitality as on beauty, and that's going some.

IMPUTED NEGLIGENCE

Clover Creamery Co. vs. Diehl (supreme court of Alabama) 53 Southern Reporter, 126, presents a new twist to the question of imputed negligence. It concerns that Grace Diehl, a three year old infant, was severely injured by the dangerous machinery of the creamery around which she was accustomed to play, and that her father was manager of the creamery and knew of her habit of playing near such uncovered machinery. The question arose: Was the father's negligence in allowing his daughter to play about the dangerous machinery imputed to the three year old child? Could the creamery company in this case excuse itself by setting up the negligence of its servant, the manager of the creamery and father of the infant? The court in brief held that the contributor negligence of the father of a three year old child is not a bar to a recovery to an action for injuries received by the child, a corporation is liable for injuries to the child caused by the negligence of its manager, even though the manager was the child's father, since the child is not responsible for the negligence of its parent.

CUT OFF THE BULL

The large sign of the bull, until they became a familiar figure in every house, has been conspicuous by its absence at Springfield, Mass., since the opening of the famous baseball season. I am told that the sign has been removed from all the parks in the New England circuit this year. Just now the reason for this is not known, but it is by the common responsibility of the bull.

STRAW HATE ON DECK

One crew of five straw hats in the street hat they are one at all numbers. Sunday brought out a few, like the advance bloom of crocuses in the early spring, but in a week or two, with warm weather, they will be out in force. I have come to be the first, but when one has seen others it is an easy matter to copy the straw. Some wearers have stated that straw should never refuse an offer of new straw from the man who is the first out with a straw hat, as it is evidence of great courage.

DON'T NEED A HOE

Some time ago a babe loosely tapped on the back door of a suburban home and asked for something to eat. The good housewife responded that she would find him on the back step along with the hoe. The babe, provided he was willing to wait the meal by clearing out the gut.

The tramp agreed, and when he had eaten his way through several sandwiches to a feeling of happiness, the housewife came out with a reliable-looking hoe.

"You needn't have gone to that trouble, ma'am," said the babe, taking the hoe in his hands. "I never use a hoe in clearing out a gutter."

"Never use a hoe?" said the woman with a wondering expression. "What do you use then, a shovel?"

"No, ma'am," replied the babe, starting for the back gate. "My method is to play for rain."

ment for all can be enjoyed only when decency and order are observed. Lowell has had very little to complain of in the past as compared with other cities in this respect, and it is to be hoped that our former high standard will be maintained for the coming season.

The testimony of Mr. Melten before the interstate commerce commission proves conclusively that for once the opposition of press and public was well founded on fact in the case of the New Haven. That the will of J. P. Morgan was absolute, according to the distinguished witness who has said, referring to the late Mr. Morgan, "I recall no case in which he did not have his way" was not a wholesome consideration for the railroads of New England. The wreck of the New Haven, as sketched by its former head, makes bitter reading to the stockholders of the road and to the New England public.

The appearance of Gen. Butler's granddaughter before the Massachusetts legislature to defend his memory is a reminder to those who defame the dead that their shafts can also wound the living. Remembering the family name, the valiant old fighter, perhaps it were kinder to him to let the statue stand, and it requires a slight share of executive ability to give adequate service under the necessarily restricted arrangements of the present.

in New York are well dressed and thousands of these men wear Rogers-Peet's clothes.

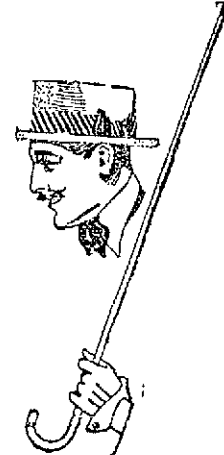

Not altogether because Rogers-Peet suits cost less than equally good clothing, made to measure, but because the fit and service of the suits have been found to be satisfactory, and men find it easy to get such clothes as they want, when they want them.

There's a like opportunity here—to get the same suits sold by Rogers-Peet in their three Broadway stores and get the suit when you are ready for it.

Aside from the fact that this is the best clothing that can be bought ready-to-wear, there's another feature that commends it—and a strong one—Every pattern is exclusive. Rogers-Peet's suits, $20, $23, $25 up to $32

One of the disturbing notes of modern life is the increase in the number of insane, as is suggested by the necessity of more room in the insane hospital which will result in the building of an extension camp somewhere in this county probably within a few miles of this city. # QUIMET OF BAY STATE DEFEATED BY TUBBS

Open Golf Champion of U. S. Lost in Third Round of British Open Golf Championship—Herreshoff of New York Won From Platt

SANDWICH, Eng., May 16.—Francis Quimet, open golf champion of the United States, was put out of the contest for the British amateur championship in the closing stage of the second round by H. Tubbs, a local player of Littlestone-on-Sea, Kent.

The defeat of the young American champion proved a great sensation as did that of Jerome D. Travers, American amateur champion. It had been thought that Quimet would have no difficulty in disposing of Tubbs, who though comparatively unknown and youthful, is a steady golfer. Tubbs never before secured a win in anything like championship terms.

The third day's play in the British amateur golf championship brought together a larger crowd of spectators than ever, owing to the open character of the competition, in which five American players still survived this morning.

The American colony in England was represented largely and most of them followed the match between Francis Quimet of the Woodland Golf club, Massachusetts, open champion of the United States, and H. Tubbs, a youthful local player from a nearby club at Littlestone-on-Sea, Kent. The enthusiasm of the American spectators was soon sharply cooled by the way in which Tubbs handled their favorite. By the time the two players reached the turn Quimet was one down and Tubbs finished the round with 2 up.

Quimet's card for the round was as follows:

Outward—5 4 7 4 5 5 5—42.
Homeward—5 4 4 5 5 5 5—41.
Total, 83.

Tubbs did two strokes better on the first nine holes and one stroke better on the second half of the journey. His card read:

Outward—5 4 4 4 5 5 5—40.
Homeward—5 5 5 4 5 4 4—40.
Total, 80.

The defeat of Quimet disappointed the American contingent, but the crowd was partially dispersed shortly afterwards by a brilliant victory gained by Frederick Herreshoff of New York in beating J. R. Platt of the Royal North Devon club by 1 up and 3 to play.

On the links reports were current today that a wager of $100,000 in the event of a British amateur victory against either Travers or Quimet, carried off the championship and had been early taken by someone who favored the American's chances.

After his defeat, Quimet was the first to congratulate his opponent. As soon as the first stroke had been played the American shook the Englishman's hand with great cordiality.

Quimet's weakness on the green seemed his undoing in today's match. He on several occasions was short of the hole, but also occasionally overran it. Sometimes he missed easy putts, and at the last hole actually failed to get down a three-foot putt.

Quimet's last at the end of the match, when it looked as though, after a series of misfortunes, he might force the playing of an extra hole, evoked the admiration of the large gallery and he was as heartily cheered as was his opponent.

Herreshoff, after a weak start in his match, had little difficulty in disposing of J. R. Platt by four up and two to play. The American scored a good length, but was extremely weak on the greens, going out. He managed, however, to make it all square at the 18th hole.

The moment the forward putt, which started the American toward the 19th hole, was put, the putting was perfect. He ran down both putts at several holes and was superior at all points that Platt was never able to ground him.

Harold Weber completely outclassed W. M. Connick. He outdressed him, was better in his approaches and superior on the green. Weber made the outward journey in 55 strokes, a brilliant score and turned six up.

In the early stages of the third round another American went over to the majority as Arthur G. Lockwood was beaten by Mr. Hayward of Ealing.

Returns from the S. A. R. Convention at Syracuse, N. Y.

Appointed Member of a Committee to Traverse Washington's Route

DR. MOSES GREELEY PARKER

Dr. Moses Greeley Parker returned to Lowell last night from the 25th annual congress Sons of the American Revolution held at Syracuse, N. Y., May 18 and 19. Dr. Parker did not remain for the closing session and left before the election of president general, but says there was no doubt in his mind, at any time, of the re-election of President General Thurston if he would accept the office again, and this Dr. Parker says, President General Thurston had agreed to do.

Speaking of President Gen. Thurston's administration, Dr. Parker said: "Thurston's administration is in high favor with the entire society and it was generally conceded that if he wanted another term he could have it."

Dr. Parker was a member of the national committee on arrangements and was also appointed on a committee to traverse the route covered by Wash-

"The convention," said Dr. Parker, "was a big success. Everything passed off very smoothly and according to the program which was a very elaborate one. Delegated sons of the American Revolution were present from twenty-two states and the District of Columbia."

The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Will of Syracuse and Newell B. Woodworth, president of the Syracuse chapter, welcomed the officers and deleton 139 years ago. Gen. Philip Rensselaer of this city also attended the convention at Syracuse and he, too, was appointed on the committee to cover the Washington route, beginning June 20. Gen. Rensselaer has not yet returned to Lowell and is not expected home for a few days.

In response the president general said that it had taken him two years to get a suitable log, and that he found this log in a wild cherry tree at Wakenfield, Va., where George Washington was born. The hatchet, which he used to open the meeting, he presented to the Francis chapter.

The cherry wood hatchet, used as a hatchet, was made in two pieces. Like a real hatchet, a silver plate fastened to the head bore this inscription in raised letters:

"Hatchet of Colonial type, made from wood of wild cherry tree grown at Wakenfield, Va., birthplace of George Washington. Compliments of R. C. Pollard Thurston, president general, May 14, 1914."

Beside the inscription was engraved the S. A. R. badge and replica of the hatchet were presented to each state society.

Lucius P. Denning of Connecticut, first president general of the Sons of the American Revolution, was present, and he was asked to speak. Mr. Denning said he had attended in fifteen years.

At this point President General Thurston invited the past president generals in attendance to come to the platform. There were six present, namely Dr. Moses Greeley Parker of this city, Mr. Denning, James Denton Hamrick of Pennsylvania, Cornelius A. Pugsley of New York, Morris A. Murphy of Connecticut, and William A. Murphy of New York.

The president general pointed out that the growth in membership during the last year had been greater than in any previous year since organization; spoke of the friendly relations existing between the S. A. R. and its sister organization, the D. A. R., and prophesied a great future for both societies.

There were a great many women at the convention and they had the time of their lives. They were not compelled to attend meetings and there was no schedule for them to follow.

Mrs. A. Howard Clark of Washington, D. C., was the official hostess of the convention. Mrs. Clark is the wife of the secretary general of the Sons of the American Revolution and is, her-

IMPORTANT DECISION

Wife Living Apart Cannot Receive Compensation For Accident at Death of Husband

A woman living apart from her husband may not receive compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, according to Chief Justice Ruggs of the supreme judicial court in an opinion handed down yesterday.

The decision reverses that of the Industrial Accident board, which awarded the widow of Alvin R. Nelson $7.88 a week for 300 weeks beginning on July 1, 1912, the day on which he was killed while in the employ of the Bay State Street Railway company.

The words of the statute "with whom she lives" mean living together as husband and wife in the ordinary acceptance and significance of these words in common understanding, according to Chief Justice Ruggs's decision.

ROBERT D. MITCHELL

Mr. A. D. Mitchell of the American house today telephoned to the Stamford, Conn., hospital to ascertain the condition of his brother, Robert D. Mitchell, injured yesterday in an automobile accident. The doctor stated that he entertained strong hopes for the injured man's recovery as he showed signs of renewed strength today although still unconscious.

CONSTANT SUFFERER FROM SKIN TROUBLE

For Years. Pimples of Worst Kind On Face and Body. Itched and Burned Badly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

111 Pleasant St., Bennington, Vt.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from skin trouble in all its dreadful forms such as pimples on face and body. My pimples were the worst of the kind and they itched and burned badly causing sores to form. The skin around them was red and at times inflamed. I lost many nights' rest on account of irritation. About five months ago I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and five months' treatment cured me completely and today I feel like a new man." (Signed) Richard Voss, May 10, '13.

DARK BLUE BLISTER ON HAND

66 Loveland St., Middletown, Conn.—"My son's trouble started with a dark blue blister on the hand and it got worse every day. It started with a pain and at one time it was all blue and swollen. He lost his night's rest and could not use his hand at all. I treated it with everything and nothing helped. He had it two weeks and at last I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment two weeks and they healed his hand up very nicely; the cure was complete." (Signed) Mrs. Carl Hermann, Jan. 1, 1913.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexioned, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Dr. J. M. Shaw who shaves and shampoos with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

HAVERHILL TEAM GETS AUBREY

Last Year's Captain of Champions Again in the League

This is the Second Time
Aubrey Has Managed
Clohecy's Club

Harry Aubrey, shortstop and captain of last year's champions, has been signed by Daniel Clohecy to take charge of genial Dan's Haverhill club. Aubrey has had quite a varied career in New England ball and this is his second appearance as manager of the Haverhill team. The former Lowell captain was appointed manager of the Haverhill team in the spring of 1911 and held this position until sold to Worcester in July of that year. Shortly after his purchase by Burdett, Aubrey was forced to undergo an operation and his playing suffered somewhat as a result. During the latter part of the season, however, he played good ball for Worcester, whom he remained with until released to Lowell in the middle of last season. Aubrey is an old ball player and his advent into the local infield last year steered down the combination of youngsters. Aubrey knows the game thoroughly and should make a good manager for the Haverhill team although his ability as a player is not up to the standard set by the other clubs around the circuit.

HARRY AUBREY

ON THE SAND LOTS

Here we are, the Mohawks. We've been looking for a game ever since our last was in the paper but the other teams got scared and broke up. We are the most blood-thirsty Indians on the warpath. We have no mercy on any teams. Come on you fellows, what do you say for a game? We will play any team for four quarter balls and that is pretty good. George Beardon, 38 Ludlum street is our manager.

Saunders' Teamsters would like to play any team that can give them a battle on Thursday afternoons. This outfit is a hard hitting ball team and it is a hard hitting ball team and it would like to meet some of the fast amateur teams. Last Thursday Saunders' Teamsters defeated a picked team at the South common. Send all challenges to John Harley, Saunders' market.

The Pacifics would like to play any strong 15 or 17 year old team in the city. The Glenmores and the Mysteries are preferred. Replies should be sent to Philip Rony, 55 South street.

The Lawrence Juniors will meet the Horsford Juniors at 9 a. m. Saturday morning on the South common and a fast game is expected. There's always something doing whenever either of these two famous teams play ball. If they don't play there's something else happens that is just as good as if it was in a ring. Better come and see us play.

Here is a great team. We are the Boynton A. C. and we are 14 years old. We will play any team in the state but you got to pay your own carfare. We will also play any team in Lowell and you won't have to pay any fares. This is a good challenge and we want to hear from some of you guys.

The Young Chippewas would like to play the Sacred Heart choir boys on May 30 for any amount of balls they want. We want to show you that we ain't afraid of you. Would you like to see our lineup? Here it is: James Mann, 29, James Torrey, C. John O'Connor, 2b; Fred Quinn, p; team has some pitcher, too; Edward Phil, ss; Fred Guerin, 1b; John Mooney, rf; Bill Reardon, cf; John McMan, sub.

The local Painters' union has a strong outfit this year and are anxious to hear from any of the fast amateur clubs in and around the city. The Painters and Shovelers will clash on next Saturday and the former team is very desirous of meeting the Hide and Leather team within the next few weeks. Send all communications to A. C. Barker, 176 Crosby street. N. L. Gendron, the former Shamrock player, is coaching the Painters.

The Lawrence A. C. would like to play a game or two with the Boy Scouts or the Y. M. C. A. We asked for a game before but we didn't get an answer. I guess they are afraid of us, what do you think? If they back down and don't play, we will what we just said they must be quitters. Send challenges to "Sand Lots."

The Busters of Lawrence would like to play any strong local team on any Saturday afternoon. The Bleachery team is preferred. Send all challenges to George Keeney, 25 Bromfield street, Lawrence.

The Lowell Juniors would like to play any 12-13 year old team in the world but mostly Lowell. We will be just in the Lowell team was last year. Here's our lineup: Normandin, c; Bernard, p; Brodeur, 1b; Gibson, 2b; Brodeur, ss; Ross, 3b; Miller, rf; Boardman, cf; Elliott, lf. Our manager is J. Brodeur and he lives at 21 Steadbury street.

The Young Wameets! Are we discouraged? Well, I guess not. We are the best 16-year-old team playing the great nashua game and we are proud of it. Why don't some of you smooth guys give us a chance to beat you? You must know that we're too good. Anyhow we'll play all of them any old time. Give us a challenge through the "Sand Lots."

We'll give them young Wameet fellows a game and they can't beat us. We are the Woodbines and all that bunk is just for a showoff that them guys is tellin' about. The Woodbines is the best 16-year-old team in the city and the Wameets are older and more bigger. We'll play 'em all right.

The Crescents would like to challenge any 16-year-old team in the city. The Crescents are a good team and have won a lot of games. Why don't some of you good teams take up this challenge? What are you afraid of? The lineup is like this: Burns, c; Hoar, p; McGuire, 1b; Welch, 2b; Leonard, ss; Leach, 3b; Smith, cf; McGuire, rf; Regan, lf. We have a good team, don't forget.

The Kimball system has a fast aggregation this season on the diamond and are fitted in every way to meet fast amateur or semi-pro teams. They have won three out of the four games played this year.

Say, you want to look us over pretty good when you're handin' out about fast ball teams. We're the Richmond Street Juniors and we can play ball, you take it from a wise guy. The most of them teams out there are playing with bean bags instead of real balls. We will challenge any team for a quarter ball. Send challenges to "Sand Lots."

Here we are again right to the front as usual—the Central A. C. The Newswrights said they wanted to play us a game but they never showed up at the South common when they said they would and they are afraid of us. We can play any of their teams and beat 'em, too. Here's the fastest lineup in the city: Baird, c; Bapers, p; March, 1b; Mirae, 2b; Mulvey, 3b; 2, ss (two players); dechier (this name) Mirae, rf; Tasegin, lf; Silver, cf; Gullig, mascot.

There will be an important meeting of the newly organized 17-year-old City league tonight at 8 o'clock at the club house of the Mysteries, Lakeview avenue. Members of the eight teams composing the league are all asked to be on hand.

The Andover street Stars want to put in a challenge early so that they can get a game for sure next Saturday. We are only 10 years old, so don't say of you big guys think you can pick any of us because we won't play. Every place and ball. We can beat any team that ain't bigger than us. Send challenges to Francis Ryan, 30 Plum street, or Martin Henderson, 639 East Merrimack street.

Mike Glover and Bill Fleming have been matched once more for a twelve rounder at the Webster club. The two fighters are scheduled to go over the same distance before but from all accounts Fleming caught a severe cold in his hands. Fleming has been billed for this city on several occasions in the past but never appeared.

The showing of Phinney Boyle the other night in his bout with Al Shubert, the New Bedford brawler, at the Lawrence rink, has not discouraged the crowd of his followers. On the contrary the majority of those who witnessed the bout are of the opinion that the local boy can knock out Shubert with a little more seasoning.

And by the way, that is about the only way in which a decision can be gotten against the New Bedford lad. His style of fighting is such that it is hard to give a decision to the other fellow no matter how much clean cutting he does. He is boring in all the time and keeps his opponent on the defensive throughout. The man who can stop him and fight him back has got him beaten, for he will not be able to cope with the situation. That Shubert has got to meet a fighter who is able to stand the goit.

Gardner Brooks is having a hard time of it in boxing boys who will step into the ring with him. After his two wins over Thomas in Lawrence boxers of his weight are exceedingly careful how they throw challenges around. The Lowell boy is admittedly clever and his showing in the two bouts just

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Mike Brown of Malden and Joe Burdett of Medford will furnish the semi-final to the Eddie Murray-Walter Mehr bout at the University A. C. Friday night. These two boys were seen together in the semi-final of the fight which proved to be Jimmy Gardner's last—the bout with Frank Evans at the Atlas last June. Brown has been boxing in New York during the past winter.

On the same night George Alger and Joe Phillips will clash in Manchester, N. H. Joe Phillips was scheduled to box here one night when the bouts were staged on Boston street. The house proved too small for his appetite, however, and he regularly refused to go on. Although brilliant was his opponent on that occasion.

Speaking of Gilbert Graham reminds me that there isn't so much talk about the New England champion lightweight since the Chelsea boy announced that he was coming back home. Eddie Murphy, Harry Baldwin and several other alleged 135 pounders will have an opportunity to see just how much Graham has improved since he left for the coast.

It is reported that the Atlas club tried to land Joe Mandot for a lightweight contest in Boston but that the southerner refused to box unless he was given the club house. The Atlas management has always been liberal in dealing with their main bout performers and Mandot certainly must have demanded a lot more than he was worth.

Those who are trying to resurrect Dave Desher would be considered in a much more charitable light if they allowed the Cambridge ex-welter to fight in Lowell. Desher was a rugged performer in his day and was one of the most powerful boxers ever turned out from the vicinity of the city but his athletic sun has long since set.

Mike Glover and Bill Fleming have been matched once more for a twelve rounder at the Webster club. The two fighters are scheduled to go over the same distance before but from all accounts Fleming caught a severe cold in his hands. Fleming has been billed for this city on several occasions in the past but never appeared.

The showing of Phinney Boyle the other night in his bout with Al Shubert, the New Bedford brawler, at the Lawrence rink, has not discouraged the crowd of his followers. On the contrary the majority of those who witnessed the bout are of the opinion that the local boy can knock out Shubert with a little more seasoning.

And by the way, that is about the only way in which a decision can be gotten against the New Bedford lad. His style of fighting is such that it is hard to give a decision to the other fellow no matter how much clean cutting he does. He is boring in all the time and keeps his opponent on the defensive throughout. The man who can stop him and fight him back has got him beaten, for he will not be able to cope with the situation. That Shubert has got to meet a fighter who is able to stand the goit.

Gardner Brooks is having a hard time of it in boxing boys who will step into the ring with him. After his two wins over Thomas in Lawrence boxers of his weight are exceedingly careful how they throw challenges around. The Lowell boy is admittedly clever and his showing in the two bouts just mentioned demonstrated that he could hit as well as box.

The New York sporting writers seem to think Billy Murray, the latest coast sensation, will defeat Al McCoy, the boy who stopped George Chip in one round when they clash in New York Thursday night. Murray boxed ten rounds with four boxers on Monday afternoon but to let the newspapermen get a line on him. He sparred three rounds with both Bill Flemings of Oldtown, Me., Charley Nearing, a boy who beat McCoy before he gained prominence and two with Kaye Sweeney and Special Delivery Hartsch.

Larry Burns of Lawrence did not experience much difficulty with Young Morley last night at the Atlas club's show. The down-river boy stopped him in three rounds. Both Billy Brooks and his brother, Gardner, have knocked out Morley Gardner, doing the job here about a year ago.

Jim Johnson, the big Memphis negro who met Porky Flynn last evening, was not in the best of condition. He was much too heavy and showed signs of fatigue before the first three rounds were finished. Flynn's win, however, came as a big surprise to even his friends, for the colored heavyweight was expected to come out on the long end. Before the fight Johnson was a 10-5 favorite in the betting.

STILL AWAIT WORD OF FATE OF SAMUEL PARKS

The Government Officials Want More News on Parks and Silliman Cases — Federals Leave Tampico—Fighting Near Saltillo

WASHINGTON, May 20.—With the beginning late today of the Niagara conference officials in administration and diplomatic circles here turned their attention to proceedings in the Canadian border town which, it was hoped, would result in complete settlement of Mexico's ills. President Wilson will be kept in close touch with the progress of negotiations by means of a special wire set up between the White House and the headquarters of the American mission at Niagara Falls.

Justice Lamar and former Solicitor General Lehmann are familiar with the president's general view of the Mexican question, but they will submit all important questions to him before they take any action on the proposals of the South American envoys.

Fate of Samuel Parks
While conditions appeared propitious for the beginning of the conference, yet government officials still awaited word of the fate of Samuel Parks, the American infantryman who strayed into Mexican lines outside Vera Cruz and was reported to have been executed. Vigorous representations had been made to Huerta, who had promised to investigate the Parks case and fix the blame for his reported death. Some anxiety was expressed over John H. Silliman, American vice consul who had been held by federal officials at Saltillo. Silliman was said to have been released and started on his way to Mexico City, but definite report of his movements still is lacking. The state department also awaited the result of representations made to the Mexican family at Tonala, Chiapas.

All Federals Leave Tampico
Reports that practically all the federals defeated at Tampico had left that territory without attempting to damage oil wells, and news that the constitutionalists had refrained, so far, from attempting to levy forced loans, at their first seaport, relieved a menacing situation. The state department, acting on suggestions from foreign sources, had informed the constitutionalists that they should not administer the laws with "severity." Apparently that hint had been understood.

Fighting at Saltillo
Continued reports from Mexico City tending to support the theory that an effort soon will be made to unseat Huerta renewed interest here in developments at the federal capital. Greatest fear in Mexico City, declare refugees arriving in Vera Cruz, is not that the plot against Huerta will be executed, but that it may not occur before the entrance of the Zapata forces, which might precipitate more serious trouble. That the constitutionalists had renewed their active campaign south of Torreon was indicated in reports of desperate fighting before Saltillo. Villal's next immediate goal, details of the movement were lacking, but one report stated the constitutionalist military chief had defeated 5000 federals at Paraden and captured large quantities of arms and ammunition.

Penrose, Palmer and Pinchot Nominated for U. S. Senator From Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—Boies Penrose, republican; A. Mitchell Palmer, democrat, and Gifford Pinchot, progressive, will make the fight for United States senator from Pennsylvania in the November election. These three won their respective party nominations yesterday in the first state-wide primary held in Pennsylvania under the new federal constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by popular vote. Penrose won a sweeping victory over J. Benjamin Dimmick, former mayor of Scranton; Palmer defeated Henry Build of Philadelphia in a bitter fight and Pinchot was unopposed. At republican state headquarters it was estimated that Penrose had about 175,000 majority over Dimmick and that Mar- tin G. Brumbaugh's vote for the governorship nomination had run from 25,000 to 50,000 over that of Penrose. Aside from the senatorship the greatest interest was taken in the battle for the democratic nomination for governor. This fight was between Vance C. McCormick, former mayor of Harrisburg, and Michael J. Ryan, city solicitor of Philadelphia. Friends of McCormick claim the victory for him. The Washington (progressive) candidate for governor, will be William Draper Lewis, dean of the University of Pennsylvania law school. Candidates for the supreme and superior court nominations who were supported by the dominant political organizations were successful on the non-partisan ballot. There were many sharp contests in numerous congressional districts with many of the fights still in doubt.

HIGH SCHOOL OPEN TO PUBLIC — PROMINENT CITIZEN DEAD — CAMPFIRE GIRLS

On Thursday afternoon the doors of the high school will be thrown open to the public. A most cordial invitation is extended to every one to drop in during the afternoon and see with their own eyes the quantity and quality of the work being done by the students. Come and study the school for yourself, says Principal Truby. You will be surprised, you be pleased and you will be better able to talk about the work of the high school. There will be light refreshments and music.

Mr. Richard Welch, a life long member of St. John's church, died last night at his home at the corner of Church and Middlesex streets. Deceased was a man of pleasing personality and was well liked by everyone. He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, five daughters, Mrs. Michael Scollan, the Misses Annie, Florence and Mary Welch, Mrs. John Andy, and a son George.

The masses at St. John's church on Thursday, the feast of the Ascension, will be celebrated at 5:30 and 7:30 o'clock. The festivities which were held by the church and society were great successes. A complete financial report will be made Thursday at their regular meeting.

Campfire Girls
The Campfire Girls are planning a busy campaign for the summer months. Their main topic for discussion at present is camping, for which they are arranging plans. There are 12 girls enlisted in the North Chelmsford camp, and their ages range from 12 to 25 years. Miss Kendrick, a popular young teacher in the high school, is at the head of the movement. The girls who are so fond of our-door pastimes are as follows: Jessie DeCarter, Florence Luke, Rena Luke, Doris Luke, Eleanor Kibber, Ethel Tedley, Mabel Varum, Margaret Daly, Edith Daly, Charlotte Prince, Fannie Reno, and Hilma Hedge. There will be an important meeting of the girls Monday evening, and many important questions will come up for transaction.

PASTOR SOLD CHURCH

BECAUSE MEMBERS FAILED TO PAY HIM—FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT EX- CUSED AND RIOT CALL SOUNDED

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., May 20.—Because members of the Epworth Methodist church failed to pay him back salary, amounting to $40, Rev. H. C. Breese, pastor, sold the church building. Yesterday a force of workmen prepared to remove the building. In 10 minutes a crowd of 100 men, women and children surrounded the workmen and a free-for-all fight soon was in progress. A riot call brought Eugene Jordan and Deputies who registered order. Mr. Breese asserts he has received only $10 in salary since last November.

36 HOLES MEDAL PLAY KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

150 AMATEUR GOLFERS BEGAN TODAY QUALIFYING ROUND AT ENGLEWOOD, N. J.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., May 20.—An almost unbroken field of over 150 amateur golfers began today the qualifying round of 36 holes medal play on the links of the Englewood Country Club, for the 15th annual championship of the Metropolitan Golf association. The winner will take over the title held for the last three years by the national champion, Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J., who through his unsuccessful trip to England and in an attempt to win the British trophy, could not defend the metropolitan prize this year.

Among the players of note who will compete are Walter J. Travis, Findlay S. Pouches, Oswald Kirkby, R. C. Watson, Max Marston and A. E. Kammer, the runner up to Travers last year.

AMERICAN POLO TEAM

WILL HAVE TO GO SOME TO WIN THIS YEAR, SAYS HARRY P. WHITNEY

NEW YORK, May 20.—Harry Payne Whitney, captain of the 1913 American polo team and chief of the coaches of this year's defenders, does not share the optimism so generally heard over the prospects of again defeating the English challengers. If America wins in the coming matches, Mr. Whitney says, it will be only after one of the closest contests ever played.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF GRAND LODGE IN SESSION AT PORTLAND, MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., May 20.—Several contests for offices were expected to enliven the interest in the annual convention, today, of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias in Pythian temple. Grand Vice Chancellor Charles S. Wilson of this city was unopposed for advancement to succeed Grand Chancellor Harry H. Peterson of Lewiston. The contests were for grand vice chancellor, grand prelate, grand keeper of records and seal and grand outer guard. Charles H. Hurd of Berwick and Howard F. Sawyer of Bangor were candidates for grand vice chancellor. The reelection of Edgar J. Brown of Waterville as grand keeper of records and seal was opposed by Harrison R. Waterhouse of this city.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY
YOUNG MAN IN COURT

Companion of Youth Who Shot Himself Was Held in $1200—Butcher Chopped Finger Tips From Customer's Hand

Peter Apostolakis was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon on two complaints charging him with assault with intent to rob and with the larceny of clothing valued at nearly $50. At the request of his attorney, Hon. James E. O'Donnell, the case was continued until June 2.

When it is believed the defendant's companion, George Piskopantis, who attempted suicide by shooting last Monday, will be able to leave the hospital and the cases will be tried together. Bell was fixed at $1200. Deputy Supt. Downey had charge of the case.

TO BREAK ALLEGED ALIBI

Dist. Atty. Whitman Conducts Cross Examination of Reporter Hawley at Becker Trial

NEW YORK, May 20.—District Attorney Whitman opened the day's proceedings at the Becker trial today with a cross-examination of Frederic Hawley, the ex-reporter, in an effort to break down the alleged alibi which the defense tried to establish yesterday through Hawley's testimony. Mr. Whitman asked the witness if he remembered testifying at the former trial that Becker was out of his sight for five minutes during the time during the morning of the murder. Hawley said he did not remember. Police Inspector Edward B. Hughes, another witness, told of going to the West 47th street police station where Becker was arrested. Becker was in the station house. "I said whoever did this made a good job of it," said the witness. "Becker said, 'yes and I'm sorry it was done. I intended to show up Rosenthal and now I won't have a chance to do it.' Thomas McInerney, principal keeper at Sing Sing prison, was then called. McInerney is one of the men who heard the alleged confession exonerating Becker, made by "Duke Frank" Chiodi before he was put to death in the electric chair. The court ruled finally that the alleged confession was not admissible on the ground that it was an incident occurring after the murder. Four former members of Becker's strong arm squad testified regarding the police raid on Rosenthal's gambling house. One of the detectives swore today that Becker was not at Rosenthal's gambling house when the raid started. Another denied that Becker had made the raid to revenge himself on Rosenthal.

BRENNAN—The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Brennan took place this morning from the home of her son, Stephen Brennan, 27 Bowden street and was largely attended by relatives and friends. At 10 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Sacred Heart church by Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I. There were many floral offerings laid upon the grave and among them was a pillow inscribed "Mother," from Miss Margaret and Stephen Brennan and pieces from Mr. John Callahan and family, Michael O'Connor and family, Brennan children, McInerney family, Mrs. C. E. McInerney and family. There were several mourners from out of town, including friends from New York and New Boston, N. H. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Messrs. Patrick Brennan, Joseph Farley, Martha Halloran and William Callahan. After leaving the church the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery, burial being in the family lot where the funeral prayers were read at the grave by Rev. James T. McInerney, O. M. I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Thomas J. McInerney.

PANAMA TOLLS REPEL BILL
WASHINGTON, May 20.—An attempt by Senator Kern, democratic leader, to get unanimous consent for a vote May 27 on the Panama tolls repeal bill was defeated today when Senator McCumber objected. "The time has not yet come to fix a date for voting," the North Dakota senator insisted.

SEN. GALLINGER TO RUN AGAIN
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Senator Gallinger, in a statement addressed to the people of New Hampshire today announced that he would be a candidate for re-election to the United States senate.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL OFFICIATES
ROME, May 20.—Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, in the presence of Cardinal Gibbons, Cardinal Parley, Cardinal Falconio and several others, and a large gathering of prelates and members of the aristocracy, today opened the subterranean aqueducts for the preservation of the foundations of the Basilica of San Clemente of which he is rector.

TO WITHDRAW NAVAL FORCES
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Plans for the withdrawal of a part of the naval forces now in Mexican waters were considered at the navy department today. Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt said that within a week he hoped to withdraw to American waters one division of the Atlantic fleet, consisting of four battleships and five torpedo boat destroyers with a tender.

Formal Opening of Peace Sessions to Compose Differences Between the United States and Mexico Began
3 O'Clock at Niagara

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Anxiety among officials here over the inability to get definite word from American Vice Consul John R. Silliman, who was reported released from prison at Saltillo more than a week ago, aroused the state department to renewed activity today in the massive American effort.

Evidencing his own apprehension, Secretary of State Bryan telegraphed to American Consul Hanna at Monterrey asking if it would be feasible to send a messenger to Saltillo to determine if Silliman ever had been released.

MEDIATORS RETICENT ON DURATION OF CONFERENCE
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 20.—Delegates representing Mexico at the mediation conference to settle difficulties between the Huerta government and the United States called formally today upon the diplomatic representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, who will adjust, if they can, the troubled conditions in Mexico.

No sooner had the Mexican representatives departed than Messrs. Lamar and Lehmann, delegates on behalf of the United States, made their formal call and this opened the way for the first session of the mediation conference, announced to begin at 3 p. m. Mr. Suarez, the Chilean minister, had not arrived in time to meet the delegates who were received by Ambassador Da Gama and Mr. Naon. It was announced that the absence of Mr. Suarez would not delay the opening of the conference.

RELATIONS OF BILLARD
CO. AND NEW HAVEN

Ex-Pres. Mellen Gives Details Through Which Billard Made a Profit of $2,700,000, at Interstate Commerce Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Details concerning the relations of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company and the Billard, through which the latter, or John L. Billard, made a profit of $2,700,000 were given today by Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven.

Today's proceedings while interesting, were lacking in the spectacular features of those of yesterday. Stress was laid upon the relations of the New Haven and the Billard company. Mr. Mellen maintained that all the records of these transactions were in the hands of the commission and spoke for themselves.

Mr. Mellen declared that Billard was "a strong and honorable man—as honorable a man as I ever knew" but he related incidents of his transactions with the New Haven with evident gusto.

Toward the close of the morning session, the purchase of the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railway by the Boston & Maine was discussed. Mr. Mellen testified that the late J. Pierpont Morgan handled the details of the purchase. The road cost the Boston & Maine $2,555,821 as an entirety. Mr. Mellen while he considered the property valuable, frankly said he had not approved of the purchase of the property.

MELLEN TESTIMONY
REMARKABLE STORY
WASHINGTON, May 20.—When the interstate commerce commission resumed today its investigation into the alleged exploitation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the disappearance of millions of dollars from its treasury through the acquisition, at extravagant prices, of subsidiary properties, Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven, was ready to take the witness stand and continue his remarkable story concerning these transactions. Interest in Mr. Mellen's testimony was heightened today because it was generally expected that he would make further revelations concerning the extraordinary deals which are alleged to have cost the stockholders of the New Haven fortunes.

When he left the stand yesterday, after a day of questioning by Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel for the commission, Mr. Mellen had recited the story of how the late J. Pierpont Morgan had dominated the New Haven's affairs and how millions of dollars had been spent in awe and ignorant silence at Mr. Morgan's command. Officials of the commission and spectators listened to Mr. Mellen's dramatic story with unusual interest and at times with amazement. When Mr. Mellen had concluded the testimony for the day, however, he had barely touched upon some of the big features of his story.

Before the hour of beginning the proceedings the hearing room was well filled with spectators who waited interestedly the arrival of the principals in the case.

Mr. Mellen arrived early, accompanied by his counsel, J. W. H. Crim. He seated himself at the left of the stand from which he is giving his testimony and chatted pleasantly with several persons who greeted him. He showed no signs of fatigue from his prolonged effort of yesterday. How long he may continue on the witness stand, it was impossible to forecast today. Mr. Folk, chief counsel of the commission, has prepared many questions he has by mind and new points for interrogatories constantly are arising as the testimony develops.

Chief Counsel Folk said as he entered the hearing room that it was the expectation that Mr. Mellen would be on the stand throughout the day and perhaps longer.

"We have not yet gone into the matter of the acquisition by the New Haven of the Rhode Island and Connecticut trolley lines. We shall be glad to

TEDDY ON NATIVE SOIL

Former President Returns After South American Expedition—Contracted Fever in Jungle

OYSTER BAY, May 20.—Theodore Roosevelt set foot on his native soil last night for the first time for several months. His homecoming was a quiet affair, in sharp contrast with the noisy welcome he received when he returned from Africa four years ago.

A group of 30 persons, old friends and relatives stood quietly on the sandy beach at Oyster Bay down the hill from Colonel Roosevelt's home. The former president, leaning heavily on a cane, and assisted by two men, toiled slowly up the gangway from the landing place. But though Colonel Roosevelt had paid this penalty for his researches, in the jungle, he gave no sign of change in his manner.

The tug bringing the colonel from quarantine where he disembarked from the liner African, was sighted shortly after 8 o'clock. She steamed in slowly and after what seemed like an interminable delay to those on shore, a rowboat put off and crept up to the wharf.

Not a word was spoken until a familiar voice was heard across the water:

"Hello, There!"

"Why, hello," cried Colonel Roosevelt, "hello, there."

A little cheer went up as those on shore caught sight of a bronzed face, lighted up by the pale rays of the boat's lantern.

Mrs. Richard Derby, Colonel Roosevelt's youngest daughter, flew down the gangway and put her arms about her father as he was helped slowly from the boat to the wharf. With a lantern to light the way he made his way up the incline to land, and stopped to join his old friends.

"By George, it is good to see you all,"

he said with the broadest kind of a smile. "How do you feel?" was the first question put to him.

"Fine, fine, just fine," he exclaimed. "The next question he cut off short. 'No politics, no politics. I'm going to stay here quietly for 10 days. I shall go nowhere except to Washington to speak before the National Geographic Society.'"

"Washington is a bad place for you now," broke in some one.

"I wish you were there now, Theodore," came from a gray-haired woman. The colonel laughed at this remark. "If I were," he began, "I would—"

He stopped short, then raising his cane, said after a moment's hesitation that he still had the big stick.

In spite of Colonel Roosevelt's weakened condition, his relatives showed no uneasiness. They said that after a week's rest at home he would be as fit as ever.

Colonel Roosevelt remained on the beach for a few minutes exchanging neighborly greetings, then he climbed into his automobile and was whisked up the hill to his home, where there was a family reunion.

Mrs. Roosevelt devised and directed the arrangements to make her husband's home coming a quiet one.

School children had been drilled in singing "America" and a great store of daisies and hennery was on hand to decorate the village. Besides it was the avowed intention of the villagers to fire a salute of 21 guns with a rapid cannon in the public square.

But Mrs. Roosevelt preferred to have the celebration delayed, fearing her husband would be too tired to go through with it. It is expected that Oyster Bay's official welcome will take place Thursday.

THE HONEY BOYS PLEASE

LOCAL PERFORMERS MADE GREAT HIT AT GREENFIELD, MASS., LAST NIGHT

Some class to the "Honey Boys" That's what they're all saying at Greenfield, Mass., today.

Four members of the "Honey Boys," under the direction of Ed Hanley gave a concert at Greenfield last night for the benefit of the Greenfield Hospital. The performers made a great hit. Each member of the company was well received and before he was allowed to leave his seat several encores were necessary to satisfy the large crowd that assembled to hear them. The members of the company are Ed Hanley, James E. Lyons, George Rogers and John Baxter. Each is a talented performer, and all have had considerable experience on the boards. After last night's show the "Honey Boys" left Greenfield for Ware, Mass., where they will appear tonight for the Order of Moose in that town.

ST. MICHAEL'S GUILD

HELD FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET AT ITS ROOMS ON SIXTH STREET—GOOD ATTENDANCE

The young women of St. Michael's guild held their first annual banquet at the guild room on Sixth street last evening. The room itself was beautifully hung with ribbons in rainbow tints while the tables were adorned with pink and white roses, ferns, and wild flowers. Dainty pink favors and menu cards added to the attractiveness of these tables.

After enjoying a hearty repast, the president, Miss Margaret McCuskey, in a few well chosen remarks introduced the toastmistress of the evening, Miss Mary Jones, who performed her duties in her own charming way. Among the speakers who responded to the call of the toastmistress were Rev. F. J. Mullin, director of the guild, and Rev. D. E. Murphy. Miss M. J. McCuskey read a paper on the Life and Works of St. Michael.

Rev. F. J. Mullin, pastor of the church, Miss Nellie Lynch, and Miss Katherine Mullin, entertained with songs, while the Little Ladies' orchestra played at intervals during the supper and accompanied the choruses which followed. Altogether the evening was one of rare enjoyment.

OYSTER ARISTOCRAT OF FOODS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 20.—Resolutions calling for a systematic campaign "to awaken the public to the fact that the oyster is the aristocrat of all foods" were adopted by the Oyster Growers and Dealers' association in America in convention today. Alleged malicious publicity in which it was stated the federal government was a factor, was given as one of the reasons for the recent unpopularity of the oyster.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Loyal Wauwesa Lodge, No. 7102, I. O. O. F. M. U. held its regular meeting in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, with N. G. Russell, Stace in the chair. There was a large attendance. A large number of propositions for membership were received and several new members were elected by ballot. F. G. John Orrell and P. G. Thomas Robinson, delegates to the district meeting in Boston, made their reports and a vote of thanks was extended to them for the able way that they gave their reports. A number of brothers spoke on the good of the order.

Lowell Camp, No. 4, I. O. O. F. M. U. U. R. All members of the uniform rank are requested to meet Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at Elks hall, Middle street, to take the 7:15 special car for North Billerica to attend the meeting of Asa Pollard lodge, of North Billerica. Full dress with white gloves.

Lowell Aerie, P. O. E.

At a meeting of Lowell aerie, No. 223, P. O. E., held last evening in Odd Fellows building, it was announced that a gold watch is to be given as a prize to the member who obtains the most applications for membership during the year and it is believed that a good contest will be conducted. Considerable important business was transacted at the meeting and it was voted to hold but one meeting a month during the summer months.

LOCAL PERFORMERS MADE GREAT HIT AT GREENFIELD, MASS., LAST NIGHT

Some class to the "Honey Boys" That's what they're all saying at Greenfield, Mass., today.

Four members of the "Honey Boys," under the direction of Ed Hanley gave a concert at Greenfield last night for the benefit of the Greenfield Hospital. The performers made a great hit. Each member of the company was well received and before he was allowed to leave his seat several encores were necessary to satisfy the large crowd that assembled to hear them. The members of the company are Ed Hanley, James E. Lyons, George Rogers and John Baxter. Each is a talented performer, and all have had considerable experience on the boards. After last night's show the "Honey Boys" left Greenfield for Ware, Mass., where they will appear tonight for the Order of Moose in that town.

EX-MAYOR HITS MAYOR

FITZGERALD SPEAKS AS JOHN A. SULLIVAN AT GAMMOL AND CREATES STIR

BOSTON, May 20.—It was due altogether to the fine tact of Pres. J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., that the Springfield branch of the Boston chamber of commerce at the Copley hotel last evening did not end in discussion and turmoil, because of the remarks of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald, who impersonated John A. Sullivan, former chairman of the finance commission.

As it was, Mayor Curley left the banquet hall rather unceremoniously while the ex-mayor was speaking, and slammed the door behind him, and Bernard J. Rothwell was stopped by Pres. Coolidge in the midst of the reading of a resolution condemning the remarks of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald. Several prominent members of the chamber left soon after Mayor Curley retired and some of those expressed themselves to the reporters as disgusted with what they termed the "studied attack" of ex-Mayor Fitzgerald on Mayor Curley and Hon. John A. Sullivan.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald when seen after the incident was "closed" and before the gambols were over, said in reply to the question whether he intended to say anything by way of apology: "I certainly will not apologize for anything I have said. I will leave it to the public. What I said was said in a humorous and facetious spirit and at last year's gambol when I was mayor and spoke I said worse things about myself than I said about anybody here this evening. People who are so thin-skinned as to be so sensitive about a little fun shouldn't come to such affairs. I was asked by the committee to impersonate John A. Sullivan and I did it."

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald's remarks were in the nature of a reply to Lincoln Sullivan (stuffed), who was impersonated by John A. Daniels, and explained that after having investigated Boston for two years he could find nothing more crooked than the streets, so he gave it up. He said a good many things about Boston, however, and in a wicket way caused a good deal of amusement by his sallies at people and things Bostonese.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald as John A. Sullivan, chairman of the finance commission, did not say Lincoln Sullivan's inability to discover anything more crooked than the streets in Boston was a reflection on himself and on his many discoveries, findings and reports as chairman of the finance commission, and he enumerated in a facetious way the many evidences of corruption and graft he had exposed and included some later discoveries like the "swan boat graft" the "tonic privileges on the common" the "phone players" and the "nurses."

Nobody realized that ex-Mayor Fitzgerald was going to speak at such length as he did, nor that his remarks would be so pointed a character, and, in fact, he was not given a chance to finish all he was going to say, for after a conference at the hotel table Carroll J. Swan, the toastmaster,

THE BIG BONFIRE

Preparations Being Made at This Early Date

The residents of Belvidere who are interested in the bonfire to be held on lower Fort Hill park on July 4th, evidently believe in getting an early start for already they have begun work on the pile. Last evening the centre pole, a pine tree, 93 ft. in height, was erected, the job being engineered by Alexander Anderson, construction foreman of the Lowell Electric Light company. The six foot poles were put in position today and Moynihan Bros., contractors, will soon start the cement work. Railroad ties are being hauled to the scene daily for they will furnish the principal fuel for the flames. Edward Cawley has loaned the committee two horses and two mules to transport the material for the fire while the committee is also indebted to William Mulcahey, the lunch cart proprietor, for the use of a horse and wagon. The promoters of the event are planning to have a banquet on the field while the fire is in progress, to which they will invite Governor Walsh and other celebrities.

gave the ex-mayor his cue to stop, which was:

"Who are you, anyway?" "Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald promptly said, 'I am Sullivan—that's me,' and he proceeded to sing a parody on 'Harrigan, That's Me,' substituting the word 'Sullivan' for the word 'Harrigan.'"

QUIMET OF BAY STATE DEFEATED BY TUBBS

Open Golf Champion of U. S. Lost in Third Round of British Open Golf Championship—Herreshoff of New York Won From Platt

SANDWICH, Eng., May 20.—Francis Quimet, open golf champion of the United States, was put out of the contest for the British amateur championship in the closing stage of the second round by H. Tubbs, a local player of Littlestone-on-Sea, Kent.

The defeat of the young American champion proved a great sensation as did that of Jerome B. Travers, American amateur champion. It had been thought that Quimet would have no difficulty in disposing of Tubbs, who though comparatively unknown and youthful, is a steady player. Tubbs never before succeeded in reaching anything like championship form.

The third day's play in the British amateur golf championship brought together a larger crowd of spectators than ever, owing to the open character of the competition, in which five American players still survived this morning.

The American colony in England was represented largely and most of them followed the match between Francis Quimet of the New York Golf club, Massachusetts, open champion of the United States, and H. Tubbs, a youthful local player from a nearby club at Littlestone-on-Sea, Kent. The enthusiasm of the American spectators was soon sharply cooled by the way in which Tubbs handled their favorite. By the time the two players reached the 12th green, Tubbs was one down and Tubbs ended the round with 2 up.

Quimet's card for the round was as follows:

Outward—5 4 7 1 4 5 3 3 42.
Homeward—5 5 4 1 5 5 5 5—11.
Total, 53.

Tubbs did two strokes better on the first nine holes and one stroke better on the second half of the journey. His card read:

Outward—5 4 4 2 5 5 5 5—40.
Homeward—4 5 5 1 5 4 6 4—40.
Total, 80.

The defeat of Quimet disheartened the American contingent, but the crowd was partially dispersed shortly afterwards by a brilliant victory gained by Frederick Herreshoff of New York in beating J. R. Platt of the Royal North Devon club by 1 up and 2 to play.

The hole reports were current today that a winner of $10,000 to $20,000 had been found on Monday night. There were rumors of a large sum of money being found in the city, but the reports were not confirmed.

After the golf tournament was the first to be held in the city. As soon as the first prize had been played the American, shook the Englishman's hand with great cordiality.

Quimet's victory on the green proved his ability in today's match. He won several strokes by the way in which he handled the ball, and also by the way in which he played the green. He was not only a steady player, but also a very clever one. He was able to play the green in a way that was not only clever, but also very clever.

DR. MOSES GREELEY PARKER

Returns from the S. A. R. Convention at Syracuse, N. Y.

Appointed Member of a Committee to Traverse Washington's Route

DR. MOSES GREELEY PARKER

Dr. Moses Greeley Parker returned to Lowell last night from the 26th annual congress Sons of the American Revolution held at Syracuse, N. Y., May 18 and 19. Dr. Parker did not remain for the closing session and left before the election of president general, but says there was no doubt in his mind, at any time, of the re-election of President General Thurston if he would accept the office again, and this, Dr. Parker says, President General Thurston had agreed to do.

Speaking of President Gen. Thurston's administration, Dr. Parker said: "Thurston's administration is in high favor with the entire society and it was generally conceded that if he wanted another term he could have it." Dr. Parker was a member of the national committee on arrangements and was also appointed on a committee to traverse the route covered by Washington.

"The convention," said Dr. Parker, "was a big success. Everything passed off very smoothly and according to the program which was a very elaborate one. Delegated sons of the American Revolution were present from twenty-two states and the District of Columbia."

The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Will of Syracuse and Newell B. Woodworth, president of the Syracuse chapter, welcomed the officers and dele-

BECKER TRIAL

NEW YORK, May 20. In an effort to establish an alibi for Charles Becker, charged with having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, counsel for the defense were prepared today to call several witnesses to support the testimony of Frederic Hawley, former newspaper reporter, whose direct examination was concluded with the adjournment of court yesterday. The cross-examination of Hawley was expected to be brief.

Hawley testified under direct examination that Becker answered his telephone on the morning of the murder, soon after the shooting of Rosenthal and could not have been near the scene as has been previously charged by witnesses for the state.

A conference last night, attended by Becker, his wife, lawyer and counsel, failed to determine whether the defendant would be called to the stand. Witnesses said to be held in reserve by the defense include Warden Clarence C. Carson and Principal Keeper McJannet of Sing Sing prison, who heard the statement made by "Dago Frank" Chiodi, one of the four gunmen, just before he was executed for his part in the murder of Rosenthal. Chiodi is alleged to have said he never heard Becker's name mentioned in connection with the murder.

THE S. A. R. SOUVENIR

Gen. Philip Reads of this city also attended the convention at Syracuse and he, too, was appointed on the committee to cover the Washington route, beginning June 20. Gen. Reads has not yet returned to Lowell and is not expected home for a few days.

CONSTANT SUFFERER FROM SKIN TROUBLE

For Years, Pimples of Worst Kind On Face and Body, Itched and Burned Badly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

111 Pleasant St., Bennington, Vt.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from skin trouble in all its dreadful forms such as pimples on face and body. My pimples were the worst of the kind and they itched and burned badly causing sores to form. The skin around them was red and at times inflamed. I lost many nights' rest on account of irritation. About five months ago I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and five months' treatment cured me completely and to-day I feel like a new man." (Signed) Richard Voss, May 10, '13.

DARK BLUE BLISTER ON HAND

48 Lowell St., Middletown, Conn.—"My son's trouble started with a dark blue blister on the hand and it got worse every day. It started with a pain and at one time it was all blue and swollen. He lost his night's rest and could not use his hand at all. I treated it with everything and nothing helped. He had it two weeks and at last I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment two weeks and they healed his hand up very nicely; the cure was complete." (Signed) Mrs. Carl Herrmann, Jan. 1, 1913. Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexioned, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address—Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.

gates on behalf of the chapter. He made a patriotic speech, and mentioned the historic country surrounding Syracuse and the five Indian nations which at one time occupied the land of Central New York. He said that the Empire state appreciated the honor of having the congress at Syracuse and that it was deeply appreciated by the Syracuse chapter.

In response, the president general said that it had taken him two years to get a suitable log, and that he found this log in a wild cherry tree at Wakefield, Va., where George Washington was born. The hatchet, which he used to open the meeting, he presented to the Syracuse chapter.

The cherry wood hatchet, used as a gavel, was made in two pieces, like a real hatchet. A silver plate fastened to the head bore this inscription in raised letters:

"Hatchet of Colonel type, made from wood of wild cherry tree grown at Wakefield, Va., birthplace of George Washington. Compliments of R. C. Riall Thurston, president general, May 18, 1914."

Beside the inscription was engraved the S. A. R. badge and replicas of the hatchet were presented to each state society.

Lucius P. Denning of Connecticut, first president general of the Sons of the American Revolution, was present, and he was asked to speak. Mr. Denning said it was the first annual congress he had attended in fifteen years.

At this point, President-General Thurston invited the most prominent persons in attendance to come to the platform. There were six present, namely Dr. Moses Greeley Parker of this city, Mr. Denning, James Denton Leacock of Pennsylvania, Cornelius A. Pausley of New York, Morris T. Denning of Connecticut, and William A. Marble of New York.

The president general pointed out that the growth in membership during the last year had been greater than in any previous year since organization.

There were a great many women at the convention and they had the time of their lives. They were not compelled to attend meetings and there was no schedule for them to follow. Mrs. A. Howard Clark, of Washington, D. C., was the official hostess of the convention. Mrs. Clark is the wife of the secretary general of the Sons of the American Revolution and is, her-

IMPORTANT DECISION

Wife Living Apart Cannot Receive Compensation For Accident at Death of Husband

A woman living apart from her husband may not receive compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, according to Chief Justice Ruggs of the supreme judicial court in an opinion handed down yesterday.

The decision reverses that of the Industrial Accident board, which awarded the widow of Alvin R. Nelson $7.88 a week for 300 weeks beginning on July 1, 1912, the day on which he was killed while in the employ of the Bay State Street Railway company.

The words of the statute "with whom she lives" mean living together as husband and wife in the ordinary acceptance and significance of these words in common understanding, according to Chief Justice Ruggs's decision.

ROBERT D. MITCHELL

Mr. A. D. Mitchell of the American house today telephoned to the Stamford, Conn., hospital to ascertain the condition of his brother, Robert D. Mitchell, injured yesterday in an automobile accident. The doctor stated that he entertained strong hopes for the injured man's recovery as he showed signs of renewed strength today although still unconscious.

HAVERHILL TEAM GETS AUBREY

Last Year's Captain of Champions Again in the League

This is the Second Time Aubrey Has Managed Clohecy's Club

Harry Aubrey, shortstop and captain of last year's champions, has been signed by Daniel Clohecy to take charge of genial Dan's Haverhill club. Aubrey has had quite a varied career in New England ball and this is his second appearance as manager of the Haverhill team. The former Lowell captain was appointed manager of the Haverhill team in the spring of 1911 and held this position until sold to Worcester in July of that year.

Shortly after his purchase by Burket, Aubrey was forced to undergo an operation and his playing suffered somewhat as a result. During the latter part of the season, however, he played good ball for Worcester, whom he remained with until released to Lowell in the middle of last season. Aubrey is an old ball player and his advent into the local infield last year steadied Aubrey knows the game thoroughly and should make a good manager for the Haverhill team although his ability as a player is not up to the standard set by the other clubs around the circuit.

ON THE SAND LOTS

Here we are, the Mohawks. We've been looking for a game ever since our ad was in the paper but the other teams got scared and broke up. We are the most blood-thirsty Indians on the warpath. We have no mercy on any teams. Come on you fellows, what do you say for a game? We will play any team for four quarter balls and that is pretty good. George Reardon, 38 Dulaney street is our manager.

Saunders' Teamsters would like to play any team that can give them battle on Thursday afternoons. This outfit is a hard hitting ball team and would like to meet some of the fast amateur teams. Last Thursday Saunders' Teamsters defeated a picked team at the South common. Send all challenges to John, Harley, Saunders market.

The Pacifics would like to play any strong 16 or 17 year old team in the city. The Glenmores and the Mysteries are preferred. Replies should be sent to Philip Henry, 55 South street.

The Lawrence Juniors will meet the Horford Juniors at 9 a. m. Saturday morning on the South common and a fast game is expected. There's always something doing whenever either of these two famous teams play ball. If they don't play good there's something else happens that is just as good as if it was in a ring. Better come and see us play.

Here is a great team. We are the

10c CIGAR

Thirty-nine years' continuous increased sales tells its own story. Factory, Manchester, N. H.

Boynton A. C. and we are 14 years old. We will play any team in the city but you got to pay your own carfare. We will also play any team in Lowell and you won't have to pay any fares. This is a good challenge and we want to hear from some of you guys.

The Young Chippewas would like to play the Sacred Heart choir boys on May 30 for any amount of balls they want. We want to show you that we can't be afraid of you. Would you like to see our lineup? Here it is: James McMahon, 24, James Torrey, 21, John O'Connor, 19, Fred Quinn, 17 (and he's some pitcher, too), Edward Phil, 15, Fred Querin, 14, John Mooney, 12, Bill Reardon, 10, John McMahon, sub.

The local Painters' union has a strong outfit this year and are anxious to hear from any of the fast amateur clubs in and around the city. The Painters and Shawlightes will clash on next Saturday and the former team is very desirous of meeting the Hido and Leather team within the next few weeks. Send all communications to A. C. Barker, 17 Crosby street. N. L. Gendron, the former Samrock player, is coaching the Painters.

The Lawrence A. C. would like to play a game or two with the Boy Scouts or the Y. M. C. A. We asked for a game before but we didn't get an answer. If they are afraid of us, what do you think? If they back down and don't play us, what we just said they must be quitters. Send challenges to "Sand Lots."

The Eusters of Lawrence would like to play any strong local team on any Saturday afternoon. The Bleachery team is preferred. Send all challenges to George Kennedy, 25 Bromfield street, Lawrence.

The Lowell Juniors would like to play any 12-13 year old team in the world but mostly Lowell. We will be just like the Lowell team was last year. The Champions' our lineup: Normandin, 17, Gerard, 16, Brodeur, 15, Gibson, 14, Brodeur, 13, Ross, 12, Miller, 11, Boardman, 10, Elliott, 9. Our manager is J. Brodeur and he lives at 21 Stoddard street.

The Young Wameets! Are we discouraged? Well, I guess not. We are the best 15-year-old team playing the great national game and we are proud of it. Why don't some of you smooth guys give us a chance to beat you? You must know that we're too good. Anyhow we'll play all of them any old time. Give us a challenge through the "Sand Lots."

We'll give them young Wameet fellows a game and they can't beat us. We are the Woodbines and all that bunk is just for a crowd that they guys is hollerin' about. The Woodbines is the best 10-year-old team in the city and the Wameets are older and more bigger. We'll play 'em all right.

The Crescents would like to challenge any 15-year-old team in the city. The Crescents are a good team and have won a lot of games. Why don't some of you good teams take up this challenge? What are you afraid of? The lineup is like this: Burns, 17, Hobbs, 16, McGee, 15, Welsh, 14, Leighton, 13, Lentine, 12, Smith, 11, McGuire, 10, Regan, 9. We have a good team, don't forget.

The Kimball system has a fast aggregation this season on the diamond and are fixed in every way to meet fast amateur or semi-pro teams. They have won three out of the four games played this year.

Say, you want to look us over pretty good when you're handling out dope about fast ball teams. We're the Richmond Street Juniors and we can play ball, you take it from a wise guy. The most of them teams ought to be playing with bean bags instead of ball players. We will challenge any team for a quarter ball. Send challenges to "Sand Lots."

Here we are again right to the front as usual. The Central A. C. The New-crescents said they wanted to play us a game but they never showed up at the South common where they said they would and they are afraid of us. We can play any of them teams and beat 'em, too. Here's the fastest lineup in the city: Bairs, 17, Rapore, 16, Marsh, 15, Mirae, 14, Mulvey, 13, 12, 11, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1. (we couldn't decipher this name) Mirae, 17, Faealin, 16, Silver, 15, Gullina, mascot.

There will be an important meeting of the newly organized 17-year-old City League tonight at 8 o'clock at the club house of the Mysteries, Lakeview avenue. Members of the eight teams composing the league are all asked to be on hand.

The Andover Street Stars want to put in a challenge early so that they can get a game for sure next Saturday. We are only 10 years old, so don't say because we won't play. Every time we play, big fellows they swipe out gloves and balls. We can beat any team that ain't bigger than us. Send challenges to Frances Byrne, 30 Plummer avenue, or Martin Pendergast, 429 East Merrimack street.

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Mickey Brown of Malden and Joe Burtch of Medford will furnish the semi-final to the Eddie Murphy-Walter Mohr bout at the University A. C. Friday night. These two boys were seen together in the semi-finals of the fight which proved to be Jimmy Gardner's last—the bout with Frank Klaus at the Atlas last June. Brown has been boxing in New York during the past winter.

On the same night George Alger and Joe Phillips will clash in Manchester. N. H. Joe Phillips was scheduled to box here one night when the bouts were staged on Dutton street. The house proved too small for his appetite, however, and he resolutely refused to go on. Gilbert Gallant was his opponent on that occasion.

Speaking of Gilbert Gallant reminds us that there isn't so much talk about the New England champion lightweight since the Chelsea bout announced that he was coming back home. Eddie Murphy, Marty Baldwin and several other alleged 135 pounders will have an opportunity to see just how much Gallant has improved since he left for the coast.

It is reported that the Atlas club tried to land Joe Mandot for a lightweight contest in Boston but that the southerner refused to box unless he was given the club house. The Atlas management has always been liberal in dealing with their main bout performers and Mandot certainly must have demanded a lot more than he was worth.

Those who are trying to resurrect Dave Desher would be considered in a much more charitable light if they allowed the champion to rest in peace. Desher was a rugged performer in his day and was one of the most popular boxers ever turned out from the vicinity of the Hub but his athletic sun has long since set.

Mike Glover and Bill Fleming have been matched once more for a twelve round bout at the Winton club. The two welterweights scheduled to go over the same distance fought but from all accounts Fleming caught a severe cold in his pocket. Fleming has been billed for this city on several occasions in the past but never appeared.

The showing of Winney Boyle the other night in his bout with Al Shubert, the New Bedford brawler, at the Lawrence gym has not discouraged either fighter or his followers. On the contrary the majority of those who witnessed the bout are of the opinion that the local boy can knock out Shubert with a little more seasoning.

And, by the way, that is about the only way in which a decision can be gotten against the New Bedford lad. His style of fighting is such that it is hard to give a decision to the other fellow no matter how much clear hitting he does. He is boring in all the time and keeps his opponent on the defensive throughout. The man who can stop Mike Shubert and fight him back has got him beaten, for he will not be able to cope with the situation. But Shubert has yet to meet a fighter who is able to stand the gauntlet.

Gardner Brooks is having a hard time of it in boxing boys who will step into the ring with him. After his two wins over Thomas in Lawrence boxers here will be exceedingly careful how they throw challenges against the Lowell boy. He is naturally clever and his showing in the two bouts just mentioned demonstrated that he could hit as well as box.

The New York sporting writers seem to think Billy Murray, the latest coast sensation, will defeat Al McCoy, the boy who stopped George Chip in one round when they clash in New York Thursday night. Murray boxed ten rounds with four boxers on Monday afternoon just to let the newspapermen get a line on him. He sparred three rounds with both Bill Flemings of Oldtown, Me., Charley Neering, a boy who beat McCoy before he gained prominence and two with Mayo Sweeney and Special Delivery Harsch.

Larry Burns of Lawrence did not experience much difficulty with Young Morley last night at the Atlas club's show. The down-river boy stopped him in three rounds. Both Billy Brooks and his brother, Gardner, have knocked out Morley Gardner, doing the job here about a year ago.

Jim Johnson, the big Memphis negro who met Porky Flynn last evening, was not in the best of condition. He was much too heavy and showed signs of fatigue before the first three rounds were finished. Flynn's win, however, came as a big surprise to even his friends, for the colored heavyweight was expected to come out on the long end. Before the fight Johnson was a 10-5 favorite in the betting.

SECOND FLOOR

LOCALS LOST TO BURKETT

Wild Base Running by Champions Helped Out Opponents

Worcester Team Outfit
Lowell and Took the Game 7-2

WORCESTER, May 20.—The Climbers' record up the series with Lowell yesterday afternoon, taking last year's champions into camp 7 to 2 through superior work at bat and on the bases. Lowell had repeated chances to score in the early innings, but poor coaching kept men in to the plate when their chances of scoring were hopeless. No less than five players in this manner.

Just what the outcome of the game would have been had the visitors made the best of their opportunities is questionable even in the mind of the most rabid Climber fan. Bates, who started the game for Worcester, was hit harder than the score would indicate and, with judgment on the part of Lowell base runners, at least three of the four bases he issued during his stay on the batting mound would have been turned into runs.

Shenck, the Lowell twirler, who finished Monday's game, was hit rather hard. Worcester's drives were limited and particularly timely. The majority of them coming after two were down. Mundy, of Worcester, furnished the leading feature of the game when he stepped into the batter's box at the bat and belted in the fifth. Burke, the next man up, popped up on easily to Mundy, which he dropped.

Worcester players ran wild on the bases, stealing five, making a total of nine in two days secured off Lowell catchers.

Joe James, for a starter, McNamee dropped the ball but threw him out at first. In the fifth, Lowell walked and went to second on Burke's grounder to Mundy. Stimpson singled to right and Ingeff was out at the plate on Shorten's throw to the plate by ten feet. Burke threw out Carroll in Worcester's half. Miller grounded to Smith, who threw to Kelly for the put-out. Burke took Stimpson's sacrifice. Pottinger started the second inning with a sharp single in center. Kelly sacrificed. Bates to Mundy. Smith was safe when Cooney batted his grounder, trying for a double play. Pottinger advanced to third. Wacoob fled out to Carroll in short left. Pottinger attempted to score after the catch. Carroll threw a fast ball to the plate on a third and was struck on the line, McNamee getting the put-out.

Shenck pitched himself out of a tight hole in the Climbers' half. Mundy batted on first in front of the plate. Wacoob became into the air and barely escaped the foot climber at first by a quick throw. Pottinger walked. Kelly in the center, the Worcester third baseman taking second. Stewart stepped through short, Ross going to third. Cooney hit to first, who nipped Ross at the plate on a close play. Stewart going to second on the left. McNamee singled through Burke, nipping the bases. Bates flew out to Pottinger.

Joe walked in Lowell's third inning, after Shenck had the run to catch. In the fourth, also, a base on balls, Burke hit a grounder to Cooney, who batted, hitting the bases. Joe scored on Stimpson's sharp grounder to Mundy. Pottinger grounded. Worcester took the lead in her half. Speedy Carroll was safe on Smith's error. Shorten popped to Burke. Stimpson singled through short. Carroll went to second. Mundy batted, Carroll going to third. Mundy stole second. Carroll and Mundy scored on Ross' drive through center. Burke took Stewart's long fly.

and made a break for home too late and was nipped at the plate. Shorten Strands to McNamee. It was quick thinking on Shorten's part who, seeing that Stewart could not recover the ball in time ran over and made the play. The last blood which has been apparent all through the series between the two teams was very much in evidence on the play at the plate. McNamee claiming that he made an attempt to spike him. Burke was on third and Stimpson on second when the clouds of war had blown over. Burke scored on a wild pitch. Pottinger failed for the second successive time in a pinch.

Mundy, for the Climbers, singled, stole second, but was nipped trying for third. Pottinger to Burke, on Wacoob's poor throw, which went into center. Burke took Ross' fly. Stewart went out to Kelly unassisted. Wacoob doubled with two down in Lowell's half of the sixth, but Ross threw out Shenck at first.

Shenck lost control in the Climbers' half, and three runs across the plate. Cooney and McNamee walked. Burkett, batting for Bates, hit a perfect hard down the third base line and was only thrown out at first on a step, the runner advancing. Carroll flew out to first, but Shorten lined a single to left, scoring Cooney and McNamee. Shorten took second on the throw-in and scored on Strands' hit to center. Strands stole second. Stimpson took Mundy's fly.

Lowell went out in one, two, three order in the seventh, the only inning in which they did not have a man on base. In Worcester's half, Ross singled, but was out stealing. The only Climber to fall a victim to Wacoob during the day. Stewart popped to first, who also took Cooney's line drive. Mayboken was on the mound for Lowell in this inning.

Ross took Stimpson's fly near the foot line. Pottinger singled, too hot for Cooney. Kelly flew out to Mundy. Smith grounded. McNamee hit a long fly to Pottinger in Climbers' half of the eighth. Two threw out Malloy and Smith out Carroll at first.

Wacoob walked in Lowell's ninth. Greenwald, batting for Mayboken, grounded. Malloy threw out first. Joe Crawford was hit by a pitched ball. Burke out.

GUNBOAT SMITH MAY NOT GET A CRACK AT CARPENTIER AFTER ALL

Gunboat Smith, the crack American heavyweight, who signed to fight Georges Carpentier in Paris, may not have the opportunity to grab the French title. There is a report that the Frenchman's leave of absence from the army has been recalled, and he will have to serve out his three years' conscription. Smith's bout with Langford in London will also probably be canceled owing to the prejudice against bouts between the two races.

EIGHT WOMEN RESCUED

INVALID JUMPS THREE STORIES
AT MANCHESTER FIRE, CAUSED BY EXPLOSION OF GAS

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 20.—Narrow escapes from death by women lodgers were frequent here today when fire broke out as a result of an explosion of gas in the Merrill flats, one of the city's largest apartment houses. Eight women were carried through smoke-filled corridors down four flights of stairs to the street when the department arrived in response to a routine alarm.

An invalid, Mrs. B. B. Kelley, who had quarters on the third floor, jumped from his window to the street and is now in the Sacred Heart hospital seriously injured.

The fire started in a front room occupied by Miss Alice E. Kelley. A gas stove on which the girl had prepared lunch was allowed to burn during her absence and exploded. Miss Kelley, in an adjoining room, heard the explosion saw the flames and spread the alarm through the building.

Instantly jumping from the third story window was broken by a blind on the window of one of the lower floors. Doctors declare this saved his life. He is still on the dangerous list.

CARPENTERS MET

The Carpenters' union, local 48, met in their hall in the Russell building, last evening and considerable important business was transacted. Four new members were initiated. The secretary's report showed the union to be in a flourishing financial condition. President Sears made some interesting remarks on the good of the union. On next Tuesday night there will be a big meeting and every member should make a special effort to attend.

DISTRICT CHIEF SULLIVAN

And His Men Alone Deserve Credit for
The Good Work Done at the Platt & Forrest Fire

It seems that some misunderstanding has been caused in reference to who directed the firemen at the fire in the Platt & Forrest lumber yard fire on May 12. It should be stated that District Chief Sullivan had full charge of the fire, ordered a second alarm ten minutes after the first alarm and superintended the operations of the department until the all out bell was sounded. Mayor Murphy was there as representative Commissioner of Firemen who directed the firemen at the fire in the Platt & Forrest lumber yard fire on May 12. #### THE ROYAL THEATRE

Do you like a good war drama, if so, the opportunity of the week is coming on Friday and Saturday when the Royal theatre at 488 Merrimack street will show "For the Honor of Old Glory" or the stars and stripes in Mexico, a wonderful four-reel drama, with scenes taken at the front during the last few engagements with the Mexicans. It shows you the boys in blanching valiantly, against shot and shell, it's soul stirring? Not a doubt about it. If you love good photo-plays, do not miss the treat of the week. A fine assortment of General Pitts has been secured, and for an all around good performance, it will be hard to beat the Royal on the last two days of this week. This brand new feature alone is worth the price of admission. It will keep your attention from start to finish, and shall stir you as you've never been stirred before.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Now if we can annex these two games with Haverhill we will be tied for sixth place. And with a few more games chalked up in the win column the top of the ladder won't appear quite such a mythical position. Haverhill here tomorrow and Worcester's Climbers on Friday and Saturday.

The Walter Mohr-Eddie Murphy battle tomorrow night in Cambridge is being looked upon as the class of Hub nistic performances for some time. It is hard to pick the winner. Murphy won the decision, and a much questioned one at that, when they were fought because he knew more than the New Yorker. Mohr is built along the lines of a fighter and is boring in every minute. If Murphy can box him at Iowa range, he'll beat him without question.

"Pete" Wacoob's arm is still sore. The Californian is certainly some stickler as he demonstrated yesterday. With "Snubber" and "Pete" doing hockstep duty this season Jimmy Gray won't have to send in a pinch hitter for his catcher.

Lawrence is slowly but surely coming down the New England league ladder and the fans in the Pieper village are already sending up agonized shouts for help. The first base situation in the down river city is rather a quandary just at present while the entire club is not hitting the way they did last season.

Manager Gray is on the trail of another infielder. The player he is after broke into baseball with Eddie Miller and "Huck" Weaver and is also a Pennsylvania "lutechman." The local team has had many a ball player from that state and they have all made good.

The Red Sox are surely playing real baseball in their present home series with the western teams. Three straight defeats for the Tigers is some stuff for Bill Carrigan's crew. A win for Boston today and a loss for St. Louis and the Hub team will be in the first division.

Rabbit Maranville only got five hits yesterday for a total of five, the Braves making but eight hits all together.

AT VERA CRUZ THERE'S MANY A "CLOSE SHAVE" BESIDES ON FIRING LINE

"A CLOSE SHAVE" AT VERA CRUZ

American soldiers at Vera Cruz have settled down to the dull routine of camp and guard duty. This picture shows that the soldiers have a "close shave" at other times than upon the firing line. A company barber is shaving one of the men at a railroad station, much to the astonishment of the Mexican boys.

QUIMET SAYS HE'LL QUIT

'I Guess I Shall Have to Give Up Golf,' Says American—Only Two Americans Remain

SANDWICH Eng., May 20.—Only two of the ten American competitors remained in the tournament for the British amateur golf championship after the conclusion of the third round, today. These were Charles W. Evans, Jr., of Chicago, on whom the faith of his countrymen is now centered, and Harold Weber of Toledo, who has made an unexpectedly good showing throughout the week.

Several of the most prominent English golfers were still in the competition, including Harold H. Hilton, the title holder.

"I guess I shall have to give up golf," says Francis Quimet's good humored comment after his defeat by Tubbs. "I did not play at my best. That is the solution of the problem and I have no excuse to make."

Edward Ray, former open champion, who was defeated by Quimet in the United States said after the match: "Quimet never seemed to get going. He played slowly and did not hit the ball hard enough. Certainly Quimet did not play today as he played against Harry Vardon and me."

MEXICAN SITUATION

Naon of Argentina and Suarez of Chile, is to attempt to compose the differences between the United States and Mexico was ready today to get into full swing. The Mexican peace commissioners, with their large entourage, arrived here early today from New York while the American delegates reached here shortly before midnight last night. Minister Suarez was the last of the three South American mediators to reach the scene of their activities.

Welcome Distinguished Visitors

To welcome the distinguished visitors to the neutral territory where the conference is to be held, the Duke of Comaungh, governor general of Canada, delegated Marlin Burrell, minister of agriculture and Senator Loughheed, conservative leader, to come here from Ottawa. Their program included visits of greeting to the mediators and to the American and Mexican delegates, which were to be returned by the latter.

Formal Opening at 3 O'Clock

The formal opening of the conference is set for 3 p. m. today, but nothing is expected to take place except the formal introductions, exchanges of courtesies and the adoption of plans for the conduct of the mediation proceedings, such as are customary to the opening of an international gathering of this character.

Rules and Regulations

At their opening session the mediators were prepared to lay before the delegates from the two governments which they are trying to reconcile the rules and regulations which will govern during the proceedings. Every step to be taken by the mediators will be by unanimous consent of the three South American diplomats. While Ambassador Ducloux, as ranking representative among the three, would be leader in whatever action might be taken it has not yet been announced whether there will be a chairman formally chosen to preside over the sessions.

American Delegates

Justice Lamar of the United States supreme court and Frederick W. Johnson, former superior general in the department of justice, the American delegates with H. Percival Dodge, their general adviser, who are making their headquarters in the Niagara Falls, N. Y., will be required every day to attend a session of the conference to advise the mediators and to bridge crossing the Niagara river just below the falls.

HUERTA OFFICIAL WHO FLED WILL SAIL FOR GALVESTON

GALVESTON, Tex., May 20.—Information was received here last night that Dr. Aureliano Curiel, a former member of Huerta's cabinet, who recently fled from Mexico City, would sail for Galveston from Vera Cruz tomorrow on the Norwegian steamer Atlanta.

U. S. CRUISER CHESTER DISABLED BY ENGINE TROUBLE

VERA CRUZ, May 20.—The United States cruiser Chester is disabled by engine trouble off Puerto Mexico, according to reports received here last night. The Salem sailed to relieve the crippled boat, which will come to Vera Cruz for repairs.

GEN. BLANQUET DENIES EVACUATION OF SALTILLO

MEXICO CITY, May 20.—Sir Lionel Blaquet, the British minister, held a prolonged conference yesterday with Provisional President Huerta, which has caused considerable speculation. For three hours the minister and Gen. Huerta were together but no announcement has been made as to the subject discussed.

Minister of War Blanquet, in a statement last night, talked of the situation in the north. He said: "There is no news regarding the reported evacuation of Saltillo by the federalists and the advance of the revolutionists southward from that place. The department of government informs me that many wounded have arrived in Torreon from the battle that for several days past has been going on in Ramos Arizpe."

Rodrigue Quevedo, the counter-revolutionary leader, is attacking Casas Grandes in Chihuahua.

Gen. Blanquet said it was untrue that he is going north to command the troops operating against the constitutionalists. He said he would remain at the head of the war department.

TO KEEP TAMPAICO FREE AND OPEN TO COMMERCE

WASHINGTON, May 20.—That every effort will be made by the United States to maintain the port of Tampico free and open to commerce was declared today by Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt. While no definite orders had been issued, the acting secretary said that, if necessary, steps would be taken to prevent a blockade, by either Mexican federalists or constitutionalists.

MELLEN ON STAND

have some information concerning these transactions.

When Mr. Mellen took the stand Commissioners McChord and Daniels were at the commission table.

Proceedings Resumed

"When was a loan of $300,000 made to Haskell of the Boston Herald?" began Mr. Folk in opening the proceedings.

"Two years or more before notes of Haskell were sold to Mr. Billard," Mr. Mellen replied.

Asked to explain the transaction, he said: "I had known Mr. Haskell some years and I did the case before the finance committee and they agreed to the loan."

"Was the fact that he was owner of the Boston Herald an inducement to make the loan?" Mr. Folk asked.

"It was certainly not a bad inducement."

"What was pending in the Massachusetts legislature at the time of the loan to Haskell?"

"There was always something pending in the Massachusetts legislature," Mr. Mellen replied.

"What was it?"

"I had nothing to do with the Billard company," added Mr. Mellen.

"Did the loan to Haskell have anything to do with the note given by the United States Trust company for a similar amount?"

"I think it did. I think the United States Trust company had the collateral for the loan."

"What were they?"

"Securities of the Boston Herald," Mr. Mellen said.

"At the time of the loan, I think, and for some time after, they were worth their face value."

"Are they worth that now?"

"I do not think so."

"Did you have anything to do with the reorganization of the Boston Herald?" asked Mr. Folk.

Reorganization of Herald

"At the request of Mr. Hemmingsway I attended a meeting at which the reorganization of the Herald was considered. I took no part in the proceedings."

"I met, at times, Mr. Choate and Mr. Mellen, the editor of the paper. In the course of a year I attended perhaps three meetings of the board of the paper. I met Mr. Holmes, too, who was largely interested in the paper."

"I never was in the Boston Herald office. The meetings I attended were held in the Union club as I recall. I did nothing at these meetings except observe the proceedings."

"Do you remember how long it took the Boston Railroad company bill to pass?" Mr. Folk asked.

"About 50 or 60 days after Governor Draper introduced it in a message," Mr. Mellen replied. "He wanted to bring stock of Boston & Maine outside of the state under company controlled by the state of Massachusetts."

Mr. Mellen said he was particularly impressed with the holding company idea, but thought it better than the situation that existed following the sale of Boston & Maine stock to Billard, which he declared, had been discredited in several quarters and caused annoyance to the New Haven.

Mr. Mellen testified further that copies of the draft of the bill had been sent to him before its passage.

"Who sent you these?"

"Either Mr. Choate or Mr. Byrnes," Mr. Mellen said.

"That is Timothy E. Byrnes, your legislative agent in Boston?"

"He was a vice-president of the New Haven."

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 20.—An utter lack of initiative was reflected in today's early dealings on the stock exchange. Price changes were quite evenly divided as to gains and losses, few of which exceeded fractions, save in Missouri Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio, which declined a full point. The professional element, whose operations made up the great bulk of the present trading, seemed disposed to await the outcome of impending developments, such as Mexican mediation, crop prospects and general trade conditions, before assuming a more definite attitude.

For the balance of the morning session the market lapsed into extreme dullness, business dwindling to slender proportions. New Haven, Consolidated Gas and People's Gas developed heaviness, the former declining 1 1/2. Selling of New Haven was believed to be of bear origin, and was associated with the investigation now in progress at Washington. Other stocks displayed a tendency to yield, United States Steel and the coppers losing substantial fractions. Among the high priced specialties American Tobacco was conspicuous for a three point drop. Bonds were irregular.

Further weakness ensued in the afternoon but the general market was at a standstill, with prices half to 1 1/2 below yesterday's close. Weakness of bonds was a striking feature. Time money showed some relaxation but exchange continued strong, cables being quoted at 4.8855 and demand at 4.8850, which implies further gold exports. Selling of Western Maryland and Steel was supported by Europe.

The market closed irregular today. Except for increased weakness in certain stocks due to more or less specific reasons, the list inclined to recovery. Business continued in very light volume, however, and left no doubt of its professional character.

SUPERIOR COURT CASES ROOSEVELT ON MERGER BOY SHOT ON STAGE 164 WERE KILLED

Verdict for Defendant in Case of Tormey vs. B. & M. R. R.—Auto Case Resumed

The jury in the case of John J. Tormey vs. Boston and Maine railroad, which was brought to a close at the civil session of the superior court yesterday, reported a verdict for the defense.

This morning the case of George E. Gagnon vs. Ferdinand N. Labadie, an action of tort to the amount of $10,000, which started yesterday afternoon, was resumed and the principal witnesses for the plaintiff were J. Gagnon, William B. Henderson and Mrs. Nellie Houle. The plaintiff closed his case at 10:55 o'clock and the first witness for the defense was Mr. Labadie, who testified to spending the day at the Hotel Concord on the day of the accident, and going to the Washington club in the evening in company with the plaintiff and J. C. Mansueti. He said the three were returning to their homes shortly after 10 o'clock in his automobile, when the accident occurred at the corner of Moody and Allen streets. The witness said he was driving in a machine at a speed of between 10 and 15 miles an hour when his auto was struck by a machine driven by a man named Pomeroy. Other witnesses heard for the defense were Mr. Mansueti and others.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

COMMISSIONER MORSE PURSUED BY MEN WHO WANT WORK—THE FIREHOUSES MUST WAIT

Business was unusually dull at city hall today and but for the crush in the corridor leading to the office of the commissioner of streets and highways one would not know that the building housed department heads.

Mayor Murphy is attending the state convention of Foresters, held at the Quincy House, Boston, as a delegate from Court General Dismant and the commissioners, with the exception of Mr. Morse, were attending to outside affairs. Mr. Morse was being besieged by men looking for work and the fact of the matter is that men looking for work keep Charlie in a pickle all the time. Work is slack in the mills and besides the big army of men who refuse to work for any other "concern" than the city, there are hundreds of men from the mills who are anxious for a day's work. Mr. Morse has been connected with the street department for a long time and he believes there are more men looking for work this year than ever before in the history of the city. He tells them that he will not talk work to them at his office but they come just the same and insist upon an audience.

None Were Dropped

There was a story about to the effect that Mayor Murphy in the absence of Commissioner Carmichael had laid off a number of water department men but there seems not to have been much foundation in fact for the story. When Commissioner Carmichael went to Philadelphia to attend the waterworks convention he turned over his department to the mayor and it was stated that the mayor laid off about 50 water department men. Asked if there was any truth to the statement, Mr. Carmichael said: "No men were laid off unless because of a shortage of supplies."

The Fire Houses

Commissioner Donnelly would like to remodel the Pawtucketville and Westford street firehouses; but he cannot afford the outlay and the council cannot borrow. Under a recent law all such changes must be paid for out of the current appropriation unless there is an increase in the floor space. The floor space will be unchanged but these houses require improvements similar to those made on the other houses.

LOWELL MAN ELECTED

WM. H. STAFFORD AGAIN CHOSEN GRAND SECRETARY OF STATE FORESTERS

BOSTON, May 20.—At the concluding session of the state convention of Foresters of America today, Grand Chief Ranger Duncan criticised the attitude of the national body in requiring the state organizations to bar from membership applicants who are not citizens.

Mr. Duncan declined a re-election, and Joseph M. Grise of Chicago was chosen grand chief ranger. The other officers elected were: William J. Karon of Worcester, grand substitute chief ranger; J. P. Jackson of Lynn, grand treasurer; W. H. Stafford of Lowell, grand secretary; Thomas H. Powers of Springfield, grand recording secretary; L. J. Barry of Boston, grand senior warden and G. H. Benson of Worcester, grand junior warden.

The many friends of Steven J. Wyman of the city league will be pleased to learn that he is converting from a three day, which he underwent a serious operation.

Former President Talks on Mellen Testimony—Looks Foward to Hard Political Campaign

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., May 20.—Twelve hours after Col Theodore Roosevelt returned from South America he was back today in the thick of political life. He was up early, although he was weary on his return home last night, and as soon as breakfast was over he was hard at work picking up the threads where he dropped them several months ago.

Col. Roosevelt, it was learned today, looks forward to one of the hardest political campaigns of his career. Except for the time occupied by his trip to Spain for the wedding of his son Kermit, he expects to devote to politics most of his time until November. Already a tentative plan of action has been mapped out. Col. Roosevelt has in mind one of the longest campaign trips he ever has made, taking him from the Atlantic to the Pacific and several shorter trips in between.

Col. Roosevelt spent the morning dictating telegrams and letters. For the ten days before he sails for Europe, Col. Roosevelt has mapped out a program which will keep him busy. His desire is to get back in touch as soon as possible with the affairs of the progressive party in all parts of the country and help to start the machinery in full motion for the coming campaign.

Geo. W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the national executive committee and O. K. Davis of Washington, secretary of the committee, were expected at Sagamore Hill later in the day to give Col. Roosevelt a report on the situation.

The address which Col. Roosevelt is to make before the National Geographic society in Washington has been set for next Tuesday evening. It is in this address that the colonel will make the first formal announcement of his discovery of a river in Brazil.

The Wilson administration's attitude in the controversy with Colombia over the Panama canal was criticised today by Col. Roosevelt. He objected strongly to the payment of what he termed "blackmail" to Colombia.

Col. Roosevelt expressed himself as strongly opposed to the repeal of the law that forbids the American coastwise ships from payment of foreign canal tolls. He said he thought it perfectly right to arbitrate the question, if the rights of the country to grant exemption were questioned, but declared that to yield the point unconditionally without arbitration was indefensible.

When he goes to Washington next week, he said he will be ready to repeat statements of Henry Savaux Landon, and others who have expressed doubt as to the correctness of his statement that he had discovered a great river in the wilds of South America.

"The river is still there," said the colonel with a laugh. "Nobody is going to roll up that river and carry it off. Anybody can go down there and see it for himself."

Col. Roosevelt reverted to affairs in this country long enough to speak of the testimony in Washington yesterday of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. He said that when Mr. Mellen went to him to discuss the purchase of the New Haven with the Boston & Maine he told him that so far as he was concerned the merger came within the law. He said that he sent Mr. Mellen to Franklin K. Lane, then of the interstate commerce commission for information on that point.

"I told Mr. Mellen that if the merger should be accomplished and the law should be violated, he must not come back,"

Whits a big audience looked on frozen with horror, 19-year-old Henry Garvan of Lynn, impersonating William Tell's son, with a potato instead of an apple on his head, was shot through the forehead yesterday afternoon on the stage of the Central Square theatre, Lynn, by Mrs. Juanita Griffith, known professionally as "Princess Neta."

Applause at the daring act, roughly based on Schiller's drama, was just breaking out at the report from the 22-calibre rifle used by Mrs. Griffith when the Garvan boy staggered and almost fell, turned with an obvious effort and half-walked, half-fell behind the wings out of sight of the audience.

Hurried to Hospital

The Garvan boy was hurried to the Lynn hospital, where his name was placed on the danger list. There it was found that the rifle bullet, aimed slightly low, had struck his skull and had "mushroomed" and had split into pieces as it entered the brain.

By cautious probing the surgeons at the hospital were able to extract a part of the missile, but up to a late hour had not dared to search for the rest. Little hope is held out for the lad's recovery.

Mrs. Griffith was placed under arrest.

REBEL VICTORY

Gen. Villa and 4000 Troops Defeated Federals at Paredon

ESTACION AMARGOS, Mex., May 20.—Gen. Francisco Villa, leading 4000 constitutional troops, won the first important engagement of the Saltillo campaign May 17, when at Paredon he defeated 4000 federals retreating from Monclova.

The constitutionalists lost 15 killed and 23 wounded. The federalists captured 300 prisoners, nine pieces of artillery, one million rounds of small arms ammunition, a large quantity of artillery ammunition and a large supply of provisions, in addition to five troop trains which carried the federalist soldiers.

5 PERSONS KILLED

Auto Was Struck by Interurban Car Near Asheville, Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—Five persons are reported to have been killed early today when an automobile was struck by an interurban car near Asheville, 25 miles south of this city.

THE TEXAS LAND CASE

IN WHICH LOWELL MEN WERE INTERESTED WAS HEARD BEFORE JUDGE BROWN

An interesting suit brought by Charles H. Abbott, of this city, against Dallas L. Biddle, of Winchester, to recover damages of alleged false representation concerning land and receding in Texas, Texas, where the plaintiff alleged he was induced to buy and settle there, was decided today in favor of the defendant, by order of Judge Brown, of the superior court, sitting at East Cambridge.

The case lasted five days and at the close of the evidence, the presiding judge held that upon all the evidence the plaintiff had failed to maintain his action and directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

Among the other Lowell men who own land at Buckeye are Charles Govey, Harry Gonzales and Oskar T. Govey. The last named has recently received to his Texas property and it is said has written back some glowing accounts of the country and its conditions.

HELD FOR SETTING FIRES

LYNN BOY HELD FOR GRAND JURY ON CHARGES OF INCENDIARISM

LYNN, May 20.—At the conclusion of a hearing in the juvenile court today, 19-year-old Henry Garvan was held to the grand jury on charges of incendiarism. The boy was arrested two weeks ago following an investigation of several suspicious fires in the city.

C. V. M. L. LADIES' NIGHT

The C. V. M. L. ladies' night concert at the well appointed quarters of the Lyceum in Suffolk street last evening proved to be another one of these successful events which are becoming very popular among the home and friends of this organization. Over two hundred ladies and a few gentlemen were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The usual free use of food and refreshments as well as the general program was accorded the guests of the ladies and the various paraphernalia were well utilized. The opening number on the program was a whist song by Miss Agnes McFarland and Mr. J. E. Costello were awarded first prize, while the body prizes went to Mrs. Nellie Lynch and Mr. S. Hanson. General dancing was enjoyed by the two strains of music furnished by the C. V. M. L. orchestra. President John J. Gilman acting as general manager, he being ably assisted by some of more of young members of the Lyceum. Refreshments were also served.

A Tragic Occurrence in Lynn Theatre—Boy Shot Through Brain by Woman

Whits a big audience looked on frozen with horror, 19-year-old Henry Garvan of Lynn, impersonating William Tell's son, with a potato instead of an apple on his head, was shot through the forehead yesterday afternoon on the stage of the Central Square theatre, Lynn, by Mrs. Juanita Griffith, known professionally as "Princess Neta."

ACTRESS HELD IN $500

MRS. GRIFFITH, KNOWN AS PRINCESS NITA, SHOT BOY DOING A TELL ACT

LYNN, May 20.—Mrs. Juanita Griffith, a vaudeville performer known as Princess Nita, arrested yesterday after she had accidentally shot Henry Garvan, an assistant in a marksmanship act, was held in $500 bonds today after a court hearing on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Judge Lummus said he did not believe Mrs. Griffith had been negligent or had any criminal intent, but held her because the use of firearms on the stage was unlawful.

Garvin received a dangerous rifle bullet wound when Mrs. Griffith tried to shoot a potato from the top of his head.

Report That Negroes and Indians Engaged in Race Riot

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 20.—The United Fruit company today was using its wireless in an effort to confirm a strange story of a race riot reported to have occurred on one of its plantations in Guatemala, in which, it is reported, 64 negroes and probably 100 Indians were killed.

Smouldering race hatred of the native Indians for negroes, inflamed by one of the negroes winning the Indian prize, from his father at dice and his refusal to sell her back to a native, is reported to be the cause of the trouble. The story came to New Orleans by mail.

The negro, Clarence Williams, had been working on the Teahuatana farm, one of a number of plantations the United Fruit company operates in the Montagua river district, and according to the story, he had incurred the hatred of many of the Indians because of his prowess with dice. In a game recently in which Williams' father participated, he won all the of the negro's money and then, Guatemalan fashion, the old man waded his daughter. He lost. As is customary among these Indians, the girl did not object to being a pawn in the transaction and was taken to the shanty of the American negro.

ST. R. R. TEAMS

Lawrence Nickel Grabbers Defeated Local Team Today

The Lawrence street car men achieved sweet revenge this morning at Spalding park when they met the Lowell conductors and motormen and avenged their defeat of last week by beating the local team by an 18-11 score.

Up to the eighth inning the contest was well played but in the next to the final session the pitchers of both teams blew up. Each team sent eight men across the plate in this inning and the holding on either club was tattered.

Harrison worked the whole game for the Lawrence car men in spite of the walloping he received in the eighth. McWilliams started the game for the Lowell nickel grabbers and broke handlers but was taken out in the eighth when an avalanche of Lawrence bats hit him. Lyons, who had caught up to that time, then went in and Princeton was pulled in from right field and put behind the bat. The lineup was as follows:

LOWELL: McCormack, 1f; Clark, 1b; Primeau, rf; Green, 3b; Lyons, c; Bradley, 2b; McWilliams, p.

LAWRENCE: Collins, 2b; Bodie, 1b; Powers, 1b; Keller, rf; Welch, ss; Wright, ss; Dickerson, c; Kingsman, p.

CONDUCTOR CONTEST

The physicians at St. John's hospital are unable to state whether or not Conductor Michael Connerion's right limb will have to be amputated as a result of an accident which occurred near Wamest Sunday evening. Mr. Connerion is resting very comfortably at the hospital and it is hoped that his right leg will be saved.

$1,000,000 TO IMPROVE THE MERRIMACK RIVER

BOSTON, May 20.—A bill carrying a provisional appropriation of $1,000,000 for improving the navigation of the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea was favorably reported in the house today. The appropriation will not be available unless congress approves of the project and dredges a channel below Haverhill to a depth of 15 feet at low water.

BAPTISTS REMEMBERED IN WILL

SALEM, May 20.—Baptist organizations in Philadelphia, Boston and Lynn are beneficiaries under the will of Henry A. Pevear of Lynn, filed for probate today. Mr. Pevear, who died last Friday, left an estate valued at $850,000.

The Massachusetts Baptist Publication society, the Boston Baptist publication and the Baptist Publication society of Philadelphia are given $2000 each. The Lynn Young Men's Christian association received $500. The home care society in Lynn $2000; home for aged women, Lynn $500 and the home for aged men, Essex club and Women's union of Lynn $200 each.

STING LOCAL MERCHANTS

LARGE NUMBER OF STORE PROPRIETORS HAVE RECEIVED COUNTERFEIT COINS

That spurious coins have been in circulation in this city for some time is evident by the reports made to the local police since the arrest of the two travelers counterfeited a few days ago. Several local storekeepers, mostly proprietors of grocery and variety stores, have called at the station with two or three counterfeit quarters or half-dollars when they have had in their possession for several days, but did not realize they were spurious until after reading the account of the arrest in the newspapers.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

REMINISCENT.

Reporter—I suppose your success has been achieved only after a hard struggle.

Actor—Yes; there was a time when my name appeared oftener on a board bill than on a bill board.

MEAN OF HIM.

Wife—At our ladies' bridge club this afternoon it was really so quiet you could have heard a pin drop.

Hobby—A coupling-pin?

ENOUGH SAID.

Fred—That Miss Briggs is the poorest conversationalist I ever met.

Hobby—Is that so?

Fred—Yes. The only thing she said to me the whole evening was "No," and I had to propose to her to get her to say that.

A TALENT TRAGEDY.

Dauber is gaining fame as an exponent of the cubist style of art.

Where does he get his talent?

His mother used to be a prize crazy-quilt maker.

AN IMPROVEMENT.

I got a new attachment for the family piano, and it's a wonderful improvement.

What is it?

A lock and key.

HIS LEARNING.

Did your son learn much about anything in college?

Oh, yes. He learned to operate an automobile so well that we have put him in charge of one of our big electric trucks.
